500 Attend GOP Kickoff Dinner

Bricker Calls For Steps To Help Check Inflation

Despite the waning recession, the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar still is one of the nation's major unsolved problems, Sen. John W. Bricker told a capacity crowd of 500 Monday night at a countywide Republican campaign dinner in St. Aloysius School Hall.

Speaking to party workers and officials from communities throughout the county, the veteran senator and former Ohio Governor helped launch the Nov. 4 election drive of the Columbiana County GOP Central and Executive Committees.

Gov. C. William O'Neill called off a scheduled appearance at the last minute, but sent a telegram explaining he was detained in Columbus "by a matter of much importance that arose at the last moment."

INFLATION — continuing devaluation of the dollar — threatens to wipe out the middle class and head the nation toward bankruptcy, Bricker warned. Stabilization of the currency will stop the threat to those on fixed income, including Social Security recipi-

Bricker also pointed to President Eisenhower as one of the world's leading champions of peace and called for increased efforts toward peaceful uses of atomic energy on a world scale.

Three major forces that drove down the value of the dollar were: Wages outstripped productivity; savings of the people did not keep up with capital needs for major industrial expansion and "unnecessary government spending" that resulted in deficit financing, the senator said.

He blamed the Democrats in Congress for the unbalanced federal budget and said the party's leaders acted against the recommendations of the President.

SEN. JOHN W. BRICKER, left, was welcomed by Atty. James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, county GOP chairman, when he arrived for last night's Republican dinner at St. Aloysius School.

"IF THE REPUBLICANS had been in control of the budget, it would have been balanced," he said. "I voted against enough measures to balance the budget."

Tragedy On West Coast

12 Killed As B52 Bombers Collide, Crash And Burn

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — A giant B52 jet bomber sliced into the side of another at sundown Monday and both planes crashed in flames near a busy highway. Twelve of the 16 men aboard were killed.

A 200-pound chunk of landing gear sailed through the air, smashed through a service station sign and skidded to rest on the shoulder of Highway 2, a main link between Spokane and Seattle.

The roar of the crash, flying debris and the explosion as the planes hit the ground terrified two fleeing service station attendants and two customers, along with patrons of a nearby tavern. But no one on the ground was hurt.

The eight-million-dollar B52s, prime atom bomb carriers of the Strategic Air Command, were making routine landings at Fairchild Air Force Base when they collided about 1,500 feet over the highway.

The B52s were carrying some classified materials but officials said these did not include nuclear weapons.

Joe Martella, a service station attendant, said both planes were turning at the time.

"I looked up when I heard a tremendous roar from the engines of one plane," he said. "The pilot seemed to be trying to get out of the way. Then they hit. The wing of one hit the other right behind the cockpit and it looked like it was cut in two." Martella and the station owner, Mike Anderson, ran across the highway and dived into a ditch.

The planes were less than two miles from the Fairchild runway when they collided.

Tension Eases Somewhat

Segregationists Awaiting Supreme Court's Decision

By The Associated Press

Tension eased somewhat today in Arkansas and Virginia as segregationists settled back to await the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on whether to delay integration of Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

The high court will hear oral arguments Thursday on a ruling by a Circuit Court of Appeals that the Little Rock school admit Negroes immediately. The Circuit Court stayed its order pending a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

All was not quiet on the integration front, however.

Trouble continued to brew in Van Buren, Ark., where U.S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller declined to give immediate relief to Negro students ousted from high school by a white boycott.

He suggested that an attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People file a new suit seeking a temporary injunction. The attorney indicated he would follow the judge's advice.

Negro leaders at Van Buren said none of the Negro pupils will return to school pending the outcome of court action.

A white citizens committee opposed to integration of the high school named a new leader and appointed a committee to confer with the city school board on ways of restoring segregation. One plan involved construction of a Negro high school.

Warren County, in northwest Virginia, was spared temporarily from the threat of having its high school closed under state law which makes it illegal for any school to operate on a racilly mixed basis. Federal Judge John Paul directed the Warren County school board to admit 22 Negroes to the county's lone high school, but granted a stay until Sept. 15 to allow the board to seek a formal stay pending appeal from one of the three justices of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court.

In New Orleans, Federal Judge Herbert W. Christenberry signed a preliminary injunction to force the Louisiana TAE University commuters' college to admit Negroes.

Sidelights on the integration front came from Omaha, Neb., where Alfred C. Kennedy, a realtor, insisted Negroes have a responsibility to solve their own housing problem.

And in New York, parents of 15 Negro students kept their children home from Harlem schools because, they said, "we want the children sent to schools out of the neighborhood which are better integrated." New York has no segregation as such in its schools. But schools in predominantly Negro neighborhoods often wind up with few, if any, white students.

Heckathorn fell to the pavement after walking against the side of an auto operated by Thelma Doughty of Church St. Police Chief Floyd Lyons reported. Heckathorn was taken by the driver to a physician for treatment of abrasions of the elbow and knee.

1 Killed, 1 Wounded In Steubenville Fracas

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Glenn Smith, 23, of Steubenville, was killed instantly and his brother, Neal, 21, injured last night in a shooting fracas on a Steubenville street, police said.

Held on an open charge in the affray was Willie J. Hicks, 23, also of Steubenville.

A hospital here said Neal Smith was in fair condition. Police said the shootings were a climax to an argument.

830 Township Residents Ask New Borough

Petitions asking Beaver County Court to incorporate Industry Township as a borough were filed Monday at Beaver by Atty. Walter Urling, who represents a group of the residents.

The petitions contain the names of 830 persons, or about 90 per cent of those who reside and own property in the township. Signatures of 50 per cent are needed to launch court action.

Among reasons given for requesting borough status were increased population and property valuation, recent extensive building developments and adoption of zoning and planning ordinances and a building code.

Population of the township in 1950 was 1,788 and is now estimated at 3,050. The township covers 10.67 square miles. Whether or not there will be opposition to this move is not certain.

Meanwhile, a committee of Ohio Township residents has agreed to circulate petitions proposing the same change in that political subdivision.

Ohio joins Industry Township geographically. Clem Dodds, Ohio Township secretary, asked the group to withhold action until township officials meet with the Midland Planning Authority.

The Industry Township hearing will be held at 9 a. m. Oct. 14.

Adm. Beakley Says American Help Can Beat Red Blockade

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — With U.S. help the Chinese Nationalists can keep the Quemoy islands supplied despite "a relatively determined effort by the Chinese Communists" to blockade the besieged outposts, Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley said today.

The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Formosa Strait indicated however, that U.S. help at present consists in escorting Nationalist supply convoys no closer than within three miles of Quemoy. The United States recognizes only a three-mile limit to Chinese coastal waters despite a Communist claim last week of a 12-mile limit.

The first American escort Sunday "was to show that the United States is not going to stand by idly and see these islands starve," Beakley said on his flagship, the cruiser Helena.

On Sunday Communist artillery on the mainland withheld fire but Monday it blasted away at the Nationalist ships as they beached on Quemoy. The Nationalist Defense Ministry said an ammunition ship was blown up and a food ship was forced to retreat without unloading.

Beakley said "none of our (American) ships has been shot at yet," but the resumption of heavy Red shelling changes the picture completely.

"The Chinese Communists' great interdiction capability lies in their shore batteries," he said. "If these must be silenced, it will be a tough job for the Chinese Nationalists to take on."

The Nationalists on Formosa continued to indicate they might bomb the mainland batteries. Radio broadcasts renewed appeals to civilians to move away from Communist artillery emplacements.

Responsible quarters asserted, however, that U.S. approval still was needed for any strike at the mainland and there was no indication such approval was forthcoming.

Panel Inspects Jail Before Airing Cases

Robert Guyton, 3123 St. Clair Ave., a heating contractor, was named foreman of the Columbiana County Grand Jury which was selected this morning at the Courthouse at Lisbon to begin study of 28 criminal cases.

The 15 - member panel toured the County Jail with Sheriff Russell VanFossan after it was sworn in by Judge Raymond Buzzard, and was to launch its inquiry this afternoon with four cases.

The panel includes Norman Hamilton, 1061 Ohio Ave.; Ernest Carroll of R. D. 2 and Bernard Swoger, 2704 St. Clair Ave., all of East Liverpool; Patricia Rowe, 949 Riverside Ave., and Anne Jones, 800 Main St., Wellsville; Nettie Detchon of Main St., Salineville; Alton Peterson, 321 High St., Lisbon.

Shirley Mohr and Wayne Fristik, East Palestine; Adrienne Pett, Leetonia; Evelyn McKarns, Hanoverton R. D. 1, and John Zines, Donald Hammell and Kathryn Lutsch, all of Salem.

Some 23 witnesses are slated to testify Wednesday in 13 cases, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said.

About 41 attended a luncheon and business meeting of the County Bar Association yesterday afternoon. Atty. Francis Lang of East Liverpool, president, was in charge.

Muskie Wins U.S. Senate Seat

Maine's Democrats Score Major Election Victories

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Maine Democrats won a U.S. Senate seat for the first time in 47 years and rejoiced today over other major triumphs in the state's final first-in-the-nation election.

The Maine outcome often is regarded as a weathervane as to how the wind may blow in the general November elections.

Gov. Edmund S. Muskie ousted Republican Sen. Frederick G. Payne by a 3-2 margin in a contest bearing undertones of the Bernard Goldfine case. Payne, like presidential assistant Sherman Adams, has acknowledged receiving favors from the Boston industrialist.

Emphasizing their triumph, the Democrats picked up a seat in the House of Representatives and retained the governor's office being vacated by Muskie. That gave them four of the five major offices at stake. One Democrat and one Republican won re-election to the House.

The election—the last to be held ahead of the rest of the nation—was watched by politicians of both parties for trends and possible campaign issues in the other states.

Muskie was the first Democrat ever sent to the Senate by the normally Republican electorate of the Pine Tree State. The Legislature chose the last Democratic senator in 1911 — before senators were elected by popular ballot.

Clinton A. Clauson, former mayor of Waterville, took the governorship by a close margin over Horace A. Hildreth, a GOP former governor.

James C. Oliver, a Cape Elizabeth real estate man, beat out Republican Rep. Robert Hale, who was seeking a ninth term in the House.

Democrat Frank M. Coffin, a Lewiston lawyer, won re-election over Neil S. Bishop, Stockton Springs farmer. Coffin, when first elected two years ago, was the first Maine Democrat to serve in the House in 22 years.

Rep. Clifford G. McIntire, a Perham potato farmer, was the only Republican in major office to survive the Democratic wave. He won re-election over Gerald J. Grady, a professor of government at the University of Maine.

Can't Disguise GOP Beating, Ike Says

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today sized up the Democratic sweep in the Maine elections as a Republican party beating there is no use trying to disguise.

Eisenhower's reaction of disappointment was reported to newsmen at the summer White House by press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty spoke shortly after the Republican National Committee in Washington had supplied Eisenhower, at his request, with final returns on the Maine contests.

Democrats in the state won a U.S. Senate seat for the first time in 47 years. They also retained the governorship and scored other major triumphs.

Khrushchev Tells U.S. To Leave Area

Asserts Attack On Red China Would Be One On Soviet Union

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles hinted today the United States is ready to offer concessions if Red China will renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower wants the Soviet Union to restrain Red China's territorial expansion ambitions in the dangerous Far East crisis.

A proposal that the Chinese Communists be cautioned strongly by their Moscow allies was the summer White House reaction late Monday to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that American forces be hauled out of the trouble - paced Formosa Strait area.

Khrushchev, in a letter Eisenhower received at his vacation headquarters, also asserted the Soviet Union would regard an attack on Red China as an attack on the Soviet Union.

The United States came back with an accusation that the Peiping government has taken unprovoked military action against the Chinese Nationalists in heavy bombardment of the offshore island of Quemoy.

Moscow made Khrushchev's message public just four hours after Red China's Mao Tze-tung had expressed hope in Peiping that talks with the United States at the ambassadorial level would begin as soon as possible in Warsaw.

The White House last Saturday proposed Poland's capital as the site after the Chinese Communists suggested negotiations looking toward Far East peace.

The general reaction at both the President's headquarters and in Washington seemed to be that the Soviet Union and Red China alike are much more anxious to talk than fight.

U.S. officials let it be known swiftly but privately that compliance with Khrushchev's demand for withdrawal of the 7th Fleet and other American forces from

State Grant Hinges On Voting Of Levies

A $326,464 grant of state education funds for Beaver Local School District was recommended by the State Board of Education at a meeting at Columbus Monday night.

The allotment is conditional upon passage by the school district of a levy to bring the district's bonded indebtedness up to 9 per cent along with a half-mill levy to pay back about a third of the grant in 23 years.

George VanHorne, executive head, attended last night's meeting. The Beaver Local Board of Education is scheduled to meet Sept. 16 to act on the various procedures required for submitting the levies in a single measure for election.

The funds from the allotment are slated for additional classroom facilities at the high school and Rogers, Elkton, Calcutta and West Point schools.

In other action, the board disapproved transfer of Warren Township area of Tuscarawas Valley local school district to the Conotton district in Harrison County.

The board approved transfer of Salem-Washington Local School District in Tuscarawas County to Lake Local School District in Harrison County.

Warned Her He Was Crack Shot

Kidnaper Of Pretty Girl Tells How He Killed Her

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — The body of a pretty blonde stenographer, who was kidnaped, raped and later died of three bullet wounds in her head, was found Monday in a shallow grave atop a mountain.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer said Floyd J. Robertson, a husky 25-year-old cement worker, orally admitted the crime.

Robertson told officers he warned the woman, Marjorie Schneider, 18, that "I'm a crack shot," and then pumped three bullets into her head Sunday morning as she ran from his car.

Robertson then carried the body to the top of a high mountain and dumped it into a shallow hole.

"My God, why did I do it?" Robertson sobbed to officers Monday night.

No charges have been filed.

The girl's ravished body was uncovered late Monday—about 36 hours after a gunman had surprised her and three other young people as they sat in a parked car at a lonely lovers' lane four miles southwest of Fort Collins. He shot up the car, robbed the couples and kidnaped the Schneider girl.

Robertson, a father of three children, was quoted by Sheriff Ray Scheerer as saying he forced the girl to drive for some distance and that he himself drove a while until a tire blew out.

When Robertson tried to repair the tire on a county road about 30 miles from the kidnap scene, the girl broke and ran.

"I shouted to her: 'I'm sorry I'm such a crack shot but I'm gonna have to do this,'" Robertson was quoted as saying. "Then I shot her."

Little Rock's Board Poses New Question

WASHINGTON (AP)—Urging a 2½-year breather in integrating its public schools, the Little Rock school board says federal courts may not be able to cope with state opposition to mixing of races in schools.

The board posed that question Monday in asking the Supreme Court to reverse a ruling by the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which struck down a 2½-year delay the board had been granted to integrate Little Rock's troubled Central High School.

In a petition to the court, the school board noted what it called mass opposition to court integration orders "by the people of the state and the state itself."

The board said if the high court's 1955 decision calling for an end to racial segregation in public schools is not sufficiently flexible to allow such a delay,

Segregationists Awaiting Supreme Court's Decision

By The Associated Press

Tension eased somewhat today in Arkansas and Virginia as segregationists settled back to await the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on whether to delay integration of Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

The high court will hear oral arguments Thursday on a ruling by a Circuit Court of Appeals that the Little Rock school admit Negroes immediately. The Circuit Court stayed its order pending a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Can't Disguise GOP Beating, Ike Says

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today sized up the Democratic sweep in the Maine elections as a Republican party beating there is no use trying to disguise.

Eisenhower's reaction of disappointment was reported to newsmen at the summer White House by press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty spoke shortly after the Republican National Committee in Washington had supplied Eisenhower, at his request, with final returns on the Maine contests.

Democrats in the state won a U.S. Senate seat for the first time in 47 years. They also retained the governorship and scored other major triumphs.

Khrushchev Tells U.S. To Leave Area

Asserts Attack On Red China Would Be One On Soviet Union

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles hinted today the United States is ready to offer concessions if Red China will renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower wants the Soviet Union to restrain Red China's territorial expansion ambitions in the dangerous Far East crisis.

A proposal that the Chinese Communists be cautioned strongly by their Moscow allies was the summer White House reaction late Monday to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that American forces be hauled out of the trouble - paced Formosa Strait area.

Khrushchev, in a letter Eisenhower received at his vacation headquarters, also asserted the Soviet Union would regard an attack on Red China as an attack on the Soviet Union.

The United States came back with an accusation that the Peiping government has taken unprovoked military action against the Chinese Nationalists in heavy bombardment of the offshore island of Quemoy.

Moscow made Khrushchev's message public just four hours after Red China's Mao Tze-tung had expressed hope in Peiping that talks with the United States at the ambassadorial level would begin as soon as possible in Warsaw.

The White House last Saturday proposed Poland's capital as the site after the Chinese Communists suggested negotiations looking toward Far East peace.

The general reaction at both the President's headquarters and in Washington seemed to be that the Soviet Union and Red China alike are much more anxious to talk than fight.

U.S. officials let it be known swiftly but privately that compliance with Khrushchev's demand for withdrawal of the 7th Fleet and other American forces from

State Grant Hinges On Voting Of Levies

A $326,464 grant of state education funds for Beaver Local School District was recommended by the State Board of Education at a meeting at Columbus Monday night.

The funds from the allotment are slated for additional classroom facilities at the high school and Rogers, Elkton, Calcutta and West Point schools.

Warned Her He Was Crack Shot

Kidnaper Of Pretty Girl Tells How He Killed Her

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — The body of a pretty blonde stenographer, who was kidnaped, raped and later died of three bullet wounds in her head, was found Monday in a shallow grave atop a mountain.

Sheriff Ray Scheerer said Floyd J. Robertson, a husky 25-year-old cement worker, orally admitted the crime.

Robertson told officers he warned the woman, Marjorie Schneider, 18, that "I'm a crack shot," and then pumped three bullets into her head Sunday morning as she ran from his car.

Robertson then carried the body to the top of a high mountain and dumped it into a shallow hole.

"My God, why did I do it?" Robertson sobbed to officers Monday night.

No charges have been filed.

The girl's ravished body was uncovered late Monday—about 36 hours after a gunman had surprised her and three other young people as they sat in a parked car at a lonely lovers' lane four miles southwest of Fort Collins. He shot up the car, robbed the couples and kidnaped the Schneider girl.

Robertson, a father of three children, was quoted by Sheriff Ray Scheerer as saying he forced the girl to drive for some distance and that he himself drove a while until a tire blew out.

When Robertson tried to repair the tire on a county road about 30 miles from the kidnap scene, the girl broke and ran.

"I shouted to her: 'I'm sorry I'm such a crack shot but I'm gonna have to do this,'" Robertson was quoted as saying. "Then I shot her."

Little Rock's Board Poses New Question

WASHINGTON (AP)—Urging a 2½-year breather in integrating its public schools, the Little Rock school board says federal courts may not be able to cope with state opposition to mixing of races in schools.

The board posed that question Monday in asking the Supreme Court to reverse a ruling by the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which struck down a 2½-year delay the board had been granted to integrate Little Rock's troubled Central High School.

In a petition to the court, the school board noted what it called mass opposition to court integration orders "by the people of the state and the state itself."

The board said if the high court's 1955 decision calling for an end to racial segregation in public schools is not sufficiently flexible to allow such a delay,

10 States Set For Primary Voting Today

Two Ex-Democrats Seek Comebacks In U.S. Senate Fight

By The Associated Press

Two former Democratic senators pushed comeback attempts today as voters in 10 states chose nominees in party primaries.

Claude Pepper, who held a Senate seat for 14 years until his defeat in 1950, is bidding for a return against Sen. Spessard Holland in Florida's Democratic primary, equivalent to election.

Gov. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, who served two terms in the Senate until he was sidelined in 1952, is making a new try to return to Washington in a race with Stephen W. Langmade, Democratic national committeeman for Arizona.

Today's primary contests involve 8 Senate seats, 59 House seats and 7 governorships.

The Democrats achieved a major sendoff victory in this year's general elections when they shattered Maine's Republican tradition Monday and captured four of five major races.

Gov. Edmund Muskie led the Democratic victory parade with a 50,000-vote-plus triumph over Republican Sen. Frederick G. Payne in a contest for senator.

The Democrats also kept the governorship as Clinton A. Clauson defeated Republican Horace A. Hildreth by more than 10,000 votes. And they won two of three House races.

Many candidates in today's primaries will be nominated automatically because they have no opposition. They include Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz).

Goldwater will face the winner of the McFarland--Langmade race. It was Goldwater who defeated McFarland in 1952.

The Florida fight provides voters with a clear-cut choice in political philosophies. Pepper, a liberal, supported President Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal policies during his years in the Senate. Holland is an avowed conservative. Most predictions gave Holland the victory.

Among the House races, Mrs. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) is seeking Democratic renomination in Minnesota without the support of her husband, who thinks she should come home and forget about serving in Congress. In fact, husband Andrew threw his backing to his wife's opponent, businessman Marvin A. Evenson.

A rundown of other major primary contests:

Vermont—Sen. Ralph E. Flanders is retiring and former Gov. Lee E. Emerson and Rep. Winston L. Prouty are vying in a hot battle to win the Republican nomination for the seat.

Massachusetts — Joining Kennedy in automatically gaining renomination will be Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo, who likewise had no primary opposition. Vincent J. Celeste, 34, Boston lawyer, had no opposition in the Republican primary for senator. The GOP tapped former State House Speaker Charles Gibbons as its gubernatorial candidate to replace George Fingold, who died Aug. 31.

New Hampshire—A record field of five candidates is seeking the Republican nomination for governor. Four are vying in the Democratic race.

Wisconsin — Democratic Sen. William Proxmire is expected to gain renomination over two opponents, one of whom formerly served as Proxmire's campaign manager. The Republican senatorial candidate, Roland J. Steinle, a former State Supreme Court judge, had no opposition.

Minnesota — Sen. Edward J. Thye is favored to win the Republican nomination for a third term despite the opposition of two candidates. Rep. Eugene McCarthy is seeking the Democratic-Farmer-Labor nomination and has token opposition from Hjalmar Petersen, a member of the State Railroad Commission.

Utah — Republican Sen. Arthur V. Watkins and Democrat Frank E. Moss, a Salt Lake attorney, are favored to win their party's primaries although each has opposition.

Colorado — Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols is unopposed for Democratic renomination and State Rep. Palmer L. Burch has a clear field for the GOP nomination.

Washington — Sen. Henry M. Jackson's bid for a second term is being challenged in the Democratic primary by Mrs. Alice F. Bryant, a Seattle writer. Jackson is heavily favored. William Bantz, former U.S. attorney at Spokane, automatically gets the Republican nomination.

Woman Arrested On Counterfeit Postal Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—The arrest of a 24-year-old Cleveland woman on a charge of passing a counterfeit postal money order has postal inspectors hot on the trail of what may be the first counterfeiting scheme in the 94-year history of U. S. postal money orders.

In jail under $5,000 bond following arrest here last weekend is Miss Betty Ann Evans, of Cleveland.

Charged with cashing a fake $95 money order at Polsky Department Store in Akron Aug. 25, she waived a hearing at arraignment Monday before U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn.

About 50 other $95 counterfeit orders have been cashed since then here and in Columbus, Worthington, Toledo, Dayton, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, Postal Inspector James J. Farrel said.

He said the forms were "very good reproductions" but had one mistake. The stamp in the lower righthand corner was "Wabash St. Stat." in Chicago, Farrell said. There is no Wabash St. postal station and the post office uses "sta" to abbreviate station.

Asst. U. S. Attorney George W. Morrison said this was the first recorded case of postal money order counterfeiting since the forms were introduced in 1864.

Bids Rejected For Walks On Lisbon Street

Council To Restudy Thomas Rd. Project And Seek New Offers

LISBON — Three bids for construction of sidewalks on Thomas Rd. were rejected by Council Monday night for exceeding estimated cost, and plans were made to restudy the project and seek new bids.

The bids received for the sidewalks, to extend 412 feet between W. Lincoln Way and Chestnut St., included Paul Mitchell of Lisbon, $4,988; Board Construction Co. of Youngstown, $7,100, and Rose Excavating Co. of Lisbon $7,500. The village has already spent $775 for engineering and surveying work.

Council authorized purchase of a new Rheem gas furnace for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dawson, 604 W. Lincoln Way, whose new furnace was damaged by water which flooded their cellar recently when the village swimming pool was drained, causing water to back up into the home.

The Dawsons had submitted a claim for $619, but Council decided to purchase a new one, taking in exchange the furnace which the couple had crated in the cellar, ready to be installed.

Council also discussed remedying the drainage problem which some believed was not only caused by emptying the pool but by heavy rains.

Plans of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to build tennis courts, horseshoe pits and shuffleboard areas in the pool vicinity were presented by Gene Tolson, Jaycee president, and Atty. Jack Beck, secretary.

Council advised the two such plans had been considered previously by Council, but the costs of the proposed project was more than the village could afford. A meeting will be scheduled later between the Jaycees, pool committee and park committee to discuss the project further.

Tolson said the work would be started as soon as Council approves the plans.

Council authorized transfer of $350 from the general fund to the pool fund to pay current bills. Receipts at the pool this year totaled $3,211 compared to expenses of $4,353. A balance left over from 1957 will help make up the deficit. Last year's receipts amounted to $4,303 with expenditures of $3,613.

The State Highway Department advised Council a survey will be made on complaints of water draining off Route 45 onto lawns and driveways along N. Market St.

John Fitch requested opening of drain spouts at a building he owns on N. Market St. He said the drains were covered when the street was blacktopped last year, and water cannot drain properly.

A request from firemen for badges, along with applications for two new firemen for membership, were referred to the fire committee.

The Lions Club, Jaycees and Alpha Upsilon Society were assured by Council the street department workers would empty waste containers if the three groups purchased additional receptacles.

Council also discussed placing a police alert light at the county jail so that the radio operator at the police have a call at the village hall. At present, police in the cruiser cannot see the light unless they are close to the Public Square.

Council will meet Sept. 22.

Can The South Afford It?

There are times, particularly when legalists start splitting hairs, that educational integration in the diehard South begins to look like a dead duck.

It is obvious now that the U.S. Supreme Court's integration order of 1955 that pupils should be admitted to public schools "on a non-discriminatory basis with all deliberate speed" left the door open for endless delay.

One of the lessons taught by the Little Rock episode is that "all deliberate speed" is open to review, furthermore. The Little Rock school board, having tried integration at one speed, asked for judicial permission to try it at a slower speed.

Between Southern legalists who are doing their hair-splitting best to undercut Supreme Court authority by challenging the Constitution and politicians who are overlooking no chance to pose as martyred leaders of a beleaguered South, it may very well be that school integration in the South can be put off indefinitely in any community that wants to pay the price.

There will be a price.

Besides the expense of supporting two school systems, which the South is accustomed to paying, there will be the expense of alienating public opinion outside the South.

This will have direct economic and political consequences. The latter will be visible in a widening rift between Northern and Southern Democrats. The two factions of the party are moving so far from each other over civil rights that it will take a miracle in 1960 to bring them into the same party convention.

The economic consequences would be of even graver significance. The development of Southern industry through northern capital and management inevitably must be affected by the problems that beset Southern communities. They suggest that the economic integration which forward-looking Southerners have welcomed is going to be handicapped heavily by resistance to the social and political integration which must accompany it, to make it meaningful.

An over-simplified example of the way inter-relationships between North and South can be handicapped by prejudice is the difficulty of Northern colleges and universities in carrying out the desire to schedule intersectional athletic contests. In many instances, the desire has been thwarted by Southern prejudice against colored athletes on Northern teams.

There is a price. It will have to be paid. Perhaps the South can afford it, if it succeeds in making "all deliberate speed" mean "no speed at all." But for every Southerner who wants it to mean that there must be at least one other Southerner who thinks the the price would be too high.

How Did We Get Into It?

There is an unhappy resemblance between what is being said now about involvement in Chinese politics and what was being said a month ago about involvement in Middle Eastern politics.

If the United States can get past this new crisis without war, it is going to insist on a review of the policy that caused it to come to the brink of war — with "one foot over the brink," as Sen. Fulbright said in a speech on Aug. 7 about the order sending U.S. troops to Lebanon.

It is interesting now to reread his remarks, in which he warned the Senate that the same danger of involvement existed in the Far East that had come to a crisis in the Near East.

"Time and again we have put things off," he said. "Time and again we have drifted until circumstances reached an intolerable state, and then we have rushed to the brink. This time we have even put one foot over the brink. There we dangle, waiting and wondering what will come next."

Sen. Fulbright, voicing what later became the resolution of the Senate, asked for a complete reconsideration and reorientation of foreign policy. An appropriation for an intensive study of the subject was made by the Senate.

One of the things to be studied is how the United States became involved in China's civil war in such a manner that its prestige could be jeopardized in the Far East by a showdown over a few specks of offshore real estate in an untenable position, as far as Nationalist China and the U.S. Navy were concerned.

If it can past this newest crisis without war, there is certain to be the same insistent demand for a clarification of policy that followed the crisis in Lebanon and Iraq.

Something To Talk About

The irony of Washington's eagerness to talk things over when talk promises to be the means of cooling off action will be at least as evident in Peiping as it is here at home.

It will be evident as well in other Asiatic nations that have found it hard to understand a U.S. policy of not recognizing the most recognizable thing in Asia—the fact that Communist China is a massive reality and shows no signs of collapse.

This is only incidentally a phenomenon of politics and ideology. Communist China continues to exist and grow stronger not because it is Communist but because its government is strong.

The leaders of the government, whatever they be as Marxists, are first-rate managers. They have turned Chinese nationalism to good account in their program to develop at least a few of China's vast potentialities. Whether they are more Communist than competent is not determinable from a distance.

But there can be no doubt that if their program of leadership calls for a showdown with the United States over possession of a few strategically situated islands off the China coast, their actions can speak like thunder—as much or more so than their actions in Korea.

There can be no doubt, either, that if they consent to talk with the United States before acting it will mean they have something to talk about. They hold the upper hand in the conversation.

Not Fooling Anybody

A professional chef who said the other day that men are better cooks than women isn't fooling anybody.

It is traditional in our society that Grandmother is the best cook.

And for both the boastful chef and Grandmother, it is simply the old story: Necessity is the mother of invention.

The chef must earn a living and Grandmother had to feed a family.

The next best cook to Grandmother, of course, is Mother. The reason Mother comes in second is that appetites were younger and the occasion more festive when Grandmother's cooking was eaten. For the same reason, Mother's cooking is usually considered by men to be superior to their wives' cooking.

Perhaps it should be mentioned that in this day of canned and frozen foods, a lot of the cooking by Grandmother, Mother and Wife is being done by men anyway—in a remote fashion.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Rules for outer space travel are demanded by U.S. through U.N. action. But with man brushing off most rules for safe living on the ground, how can there be hope he will change habits when he slams through heavens?

His holiday behavior will be just as bad on the family trip home from the moon as it has always been on the rush back from the weekend at Lake Butterball.

There must be a million rules for man's conduct on the ground but nobody pays much attention. Let human beings find themselves up for a weekend excursion to the Milky Way and they'll be as unbearable as ever.

HEIGHT CAN make a man more irresponsible than ever. Our bet is that a tourist crossing the Big Dipper from east to west, encountering one crossing from north to south, will be in for either a smashup or the usual bitter denunciations.

We can hear it now: "Where did you learn to ROCKET?" There will be the urge for a law making slower-going rockets move over and let faster ones pass. (And will Mr. Big ever admit his spaceship is slower than the other fellow's?)

"PROGRESS IN OUTER SPACE will be faster and cheaper if all nations get together and make agreements," says Henry Cabot Lodge, urging haste. He is speaking of progress in national aims and protections.

But this "faster and cheaper" stuff can also be taken as applying to space travel by mankind in general. It makes us shiver.

If man conquers outer space to the point where the whole family and the dog can be piled into a spaceship early Saturday morning for two days of fun and frolic up around the Man in the Moon, the U.N. will have its hands full regulating traffic.

The Security Council may be in daily emergency sessions hearing the complaint "I was just loafing along the American sector of Jupiter, Saturn, Mercury and Neptune when this big bum cut in ahead of me without warning."

Take it easy, Ike and Henry. The whole thing calls for a lot of thought before we all get into holiday weekend orbits around best advertised planets.

SWIVEL FRONT SEATS will be in some new auto models to make it easier getting in and out. This will help, but if roofs are made any lower an autoist had better do something about getting a swivel head and neck.

Ike on recent Newport vacation fishing trip caught one bluefish. Seeing a nearby boat landing them, he asked what lure was being used and was told it was a white feather. "The President's ship had none aboard," said a newspaper article. This indicates sabotage. The white feather is standard equipment. Red, yellow and green ones are also carried but there are times when only white does the trick. It also develops that the skipper of other boat suggested to Ike that "perhaps he should fish deeper instead of on surface." Ye mean nobody taking the President of the United States on a fishing trip knew that when blues don't hit on the surface, the thing to do is to fish by "heave and haul" method? Ike needs a new fishing aide. Even a secretary of angling.

First jaywalker to be tried in New York is let off by court. (It's hard finding a judge who doesn't zigzag, too.)

How Nice!

AFL-CIO Trains For Crisis

By Victor Riesel

Had recent mock air raids on our land been the real thing, stunned war correspondents would have reported that 25 of our cities and 40 millions of our people were no more than radioactive waves. But the raids were not real. So there were no war correspondents sitting in the secret subcellar antechamber outside an underground conference hall where 200 of our national leaders gathered last July. These were grim men, for these are grim times and we play grim games.

Victor Riesel

The 200 men analyzed the effect of the mock raids — but made no public announcement. It is not pleasant to talk of a bomb — already produced and tested —which can kill 10 million in New York; four million in Chicago or three million in Los Angeles.

There were 11 labor leaders and technicians in that group, acting under the direction of Joseph Keenan, national secretary of the International Electrical Workers Brotherhood.

IT WAS HIS TASK, as labor administrative assistant to the director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, among other vital matters, to check and see what remained of the labor movement after the mock raid.

It was also the task of Keenan's group, which included Stanley Ruttenberg, national AFL-CIO research director, to patch together the blitzed labor organization so that skilled workers could be strategically reassigned to those factories that were left.

In every one of those 25 cities, every one of the thousands of local and regional labor units had been wiped out. If Washington had been one of those cities, the national AFL-CIO would have shifted to its emergency standby headquarters in Richmond, Va.

This relocation site for the national staff — or what would have been left of it was set up by AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler at the direction of President George Meany.

There have been "dry runs" during a mock raid warning. Simulated vital documents have been swiftly packed. A courier took them by car to Richmond.

A government spokesman tells me that important union records have been microfilmed and are in the AFL-CIO's relocated headquarters. A secondary labor chain-of-command has been set up to "assure continuity of operations in any emergency."

THIS IS NO whimsical war game. It was not designed just to make certain that labor has representation in what survives large enough to have men represent it.

Without this labor mechanism, the country might not survive. Survival would rest primarily on our ability to stay in production.

If Pittsburgh, for example, calls for 50 electricians, what better than the Electrical Workers Union's central register would have knowledge of such men?

And who better than the local Electrical Workers business agents and union hiring hall dispatchers would know which of them have what special skills, where they live or if they are alive and if they hold expendable jobs.

Even this is not being left to chance. At the moment, Mr. Keenan's group, working with government and business executives, are running a pilot study of all skills in a Midwestern industrial city.

When this survey is completed and the kinks knocked out of the study system, the technique will be spread to every industrial municipality in the land.

BUT MR. KEENAN and his colleagues go off on the secret three-day analytical games for a reason even deeper than the practice analysis of what happened to us after a mock raid. Mr. Keenan is interested in what happens to freedom under the pulverizing pressure of a mass attack.

If we are hit, the government would issue a series of control decrees with machine gun burst speed. Mr. Keenan and the labor men have studied post-Pearl Harbor Hawaii.

Martial law was declared there after the Jap attack and it lasted for almost four years. The labor men know the need for compulsory regulation and control of wages, prices, job shifting and production in the radioactive aftermath of an attack. But they went it kept to a minimum.

So when they sit in the secret council and play war games they ask to make it possible for men on the industrial home front to fight for freedom with the greatest possible freedom.

All this is reported on the theory that the more the enemy is aware of our preparations to meet him, the less likely he is to come.

The Right To Use Force

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Nothing in these changing times shows better the changes being forced on a democratic society than the authority given one man to put us into war if and when he alone decides it's necessary.

There have been two startling examples in the past few weeks: when President Eisenhower sent troops into Lebanon and the 7th Fleet into the Formosa Strait, not knowing whether these moves might trigger the Russians and Red Chinese into action.

The Constitution says only Congress has the power to declare war. And Congress is jealous of that power. But it had given Eisenhower beforehand a blank check to use American forces in the Far East and Middle East if necessary to halt the Communists.

Several presidents in American history—acting on their own constitutional authority as commander in chief of the armed forces —have sent American forces into action without waiting for congressional approval.

But, with the exception of President Truman's action in Korea, these were minor episodes compared with what might have followed Eisenhower's use of the armed forces.

Perhaps three things can be pointed to as responsible for inducing Congress—before any actual use of force was considered imminent—to give a president the right to use that force on his own judgment alone:

1. The stepped-up pace of war making—on the ground and in the air—that might make a sudden decision by the President necessary without waiting for action by Congress.

2. Assumption by this country, after more than a century of isolation, of free-world leadership and responsibility for being the bulwark against Communist aggression.

This meant assuming obligations for the defense of its allies and friends, an obligation which might be impossible to fulfill if American action were delayed too long.

3. The vivid experience of Truman in 1950 when, confronted with the lightning attack of the Communists against South Korea, he ordered American forces into action and only consulted congressional leaders later.

Letter To The Editor

I like the Letters To The Editor column very much, because in it personal opinion can be stated.

The Saturday issue of the Review carried a letter by a 16-year-old youth which I felt contained some very good points.

Just what is the attitude of a teenager who wants to play games and the neighbor calls in the law?

The natural feeling toward a person who does such a thing is antagonism. Antagonism is defined as "the active opposition of opposing forces." I happen to know that these boys are not engaged in harmful activities when passing a football and perhaps yelling some. To some people, and I am thankful for this that it is a very small minority, any activity by children is a great crime and to be dealt with by the law.

I realize there is a city ordinance which prohibits children from playing in the street. This is a good thing to remember because it is for their own protection. But where can teenage boys work off steam by hard play? Thompson Park football? No. Patterson Field? No. Alleys or streets? No. So what is the answer?

The Y-Vodrey lot at one time was to be used for this purpose, but somehow it ended up a supermarket and a parking lot. Why?

Certain people like to make a big fuss and complain about child delinquency, but do not realize that in nearly every case it is an adult who is at fault.

We had a recreation league at one time and also playgrounds. Most of the playgrounds deteriorated to a deplorable state. Look at Grant St., look at 2nd St.

Basically, boys who are in their teens require hard play to work off steam and if they have a place to engage in decent activity, they will not get into trouble. I speak as a father of six, four of whom are boys.

Healthy Unionism

By David Lawrence

'Right To Work' Laws Can Aid Labor

Sen. Knowland has gotten an unexpected assist in his contest for governor of California as the nominee of the Republican party. It comes unwittingly from the Liberal party of New York State and could play a significant part in the political debate that has arisen in California over right-to-work laws.

David Lawrence

The Liberal party of New York State asked certain questions of Frank S. Hogan, district attorney —who had just been given the nomination for U.S. senator on the Democratic ticket—and, after receiving his answers, decided last week to accord him the "liberal party nomination. One of the questions read as follows:

Will you oppose right-to-work laws?

The answer given by Mr. Hogan wins the prize of the year for adroitness and yet directness. He wrote:

"Trade unionism has brought great benefits to our national welfare. I am unalterably opposed to right-to-work laws which tend to impair the effectivenss of labor unions.

Sen. Knowland, who has been attacked for his stand on right-to-work laws, could endorse every syllable of that statement. In fact, that's exactly what he has been urging—namely, the passage of right-to-work laws that do not impair the effectiveness of labor unions.

Indeed, right-to-work laws can definitely assist in making labor unions effective. For such organizations would be stronger if they were in no respect dependent on coercion and would instead rest their case solely on voluntarism.

THE ONLY right-to-work laws which have been championed by Sen. Knowland are those which could not interfere in any way with the right of the labor unions to persuade by lawful methods any citizen to join a labor union of his choice.

This would at the same time protect the citizen who does not want to join a labor union. For it would protect him against any unlawful set-up whereby the employer is compelled to agree to fire after 30 days any employe who refuses to join a labor union.

Sam Gompers, father of the American Federation of Labor, wrote in his biography that it is almost tantamount to capital punishment if union officers prevent anyone from joining a labor union who wants to do so. That's because, as he said, to be deprived of a job in his only known trade or occupation is to impose a severe punishment upon anyone, for it takes away his means of livelihood.

By the same token, to keep out of a job a man who doesn't want to join a union is an equally unjust infringement on the right of individual liberty of citizens as guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment as well as by the First Amendment of the Constitution.

The Supreme Court of the United States in recent years has been particularly zealous in condeming interferences by either the federal or state governments with the right of a citizen to believe as he pleases and to associate with whomever he pleases. This "right to association" has figured lately in many important decisions of the Supreme Court.

PLAINLY, if a worker doesn't want to join a union because he has conscientious scruples on the subject and doesn't, for instance, want to see any part of his dues used for propaganda or "educational" campaigns designed to defeat candidates for public office that he favors, it is a constitutional privilege he enjoys not to have any of his dues money—his property—confiscated for such a purpose.

There are many citizens who do not believe they should be compelled to join any labor organization any more than they should be required to be members of a particular church or an adherent to any religion or creed as the price of a job in free America. These are among the most important of civil rights.'

Right-to-work laws that preserve the "right to believe" would not impair the legitimate objectives of a trade union.

The present federal law on labor-management relations bars the making of a closed shop agreement, which used to compel an employer to refuse to hire anyone who was not already a union member. But the same law today also unfortunately permits agreements that require the employer—30 days after a worker is hired—to dismiss him if he declines to join the labor union in his shop.

MANY STATES have sought to supersede all such statutes with state laws so that compulsory unionization would be abolished in America. The argument has been advanced that the non-union minority would be deriving benefits but sharing no expenses. Voluntary contributions, however, by non-union workers to share collective-bargaining costs have already been accepted as an alternative procedure by some unions which have achieved a majority status in a shop or plant.

To say that right-to-work laws which are limited to protecting the free choice of the citizen impair the effectiveness of labor unions would be equivalent to saying laws controlling gangsterism might also interfere with the effectiveness of labor organizations.

Good, healthy trade unionism doesn't need the coercion or the totalitarian methods of Soviet Russia to grow in membership and be successful in the United States.

Not So Startling

By Truman Twill

All of us who have been trying to learn about Hyman Rickover are indebted to Life Magazine for putting his off-beat personality under a reading glass.

What is revealed is not so startling, after all. The U.S. Navy's No. 1 atomic submarine specialist —the man who broke the crusty resistance of a tight-knit organization and thereby saved his idea about atomic power plants for submarines and ships — is a familiar figure on the American scene.

He is the fellow who believes in something so single-mindedly he is a pain in the neck to people who are better adjusted.

He is the fellow who has so much intellectual integrity he feels no need to defer to the judgments and opinions of others who know less about the matter than he knows.

He is the fellow in such a hurry to finish what he thinks is important that he is inconsiderate of others who have no similar urge to work themselves to a frazzle.

He is the intellectual eager beaver in a society that does not like to be disturbed by ideas that call for hard thinking and hard work.

Being all this, moreover, the Navy's most controversial and, currently, most respected egghead is dead-set against the kind of organizational procedure that suits the "organization man." He is not an "organization man" — and that makes him anathema to the organization.

Adm. Rickover is grateful to the U.S. Navy for his education, but is not grateful to it for the handicaps it has tried to put on his mental capacity. He is violently intolerant of mediocrity and the restrictions that mediocrity places on gifted individuals.

He is easy to dislike, because his aim always has been to get done whatever seemed to him to be important, not to make himself liked.

It has been my hunch for two years that the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Military Academy and the U.S. Air Force Academy should institute courses to study Hyman Rickover and Billy Mitchell.

Their purpose would be to show young men learning how to be officers that the old school tie can become a hangman's noose if it is pulled too tight.

If the fledgling officers learned their lesson well, they would start their careers with a built-in philosophical adjustment to the problem that awaits every individual who goes against the grain of his associates.

Instead of being crushed by resistance to their individualism, they would know how to evaluate the resistance as an index to their success, provided their individualism was being put to some good use.

Best of all, they would know that the long-term result of sticking up for their principles when it was not the popular thing to do might be worth all it cost in personal popularity. They might do something historically important. They might be remembered with gratitude.

Odd Facts

The state of Montana, for the most part, still possesses much of the frank character of the old days of the "Wild West," this being reflected in the legend that the only reason Helena was selected as the name to replace Last Chance Gulch was because of the suggestion of profanity in the first part of that name.

The famous Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York City, was begun in 1892, but still is not completed. When complete, it will be the largest Gothic cathedral in the world — 601 feet long, 146 feet wide at the nave, 320 feet wide at the transept.

A professional chef who said the other day that men are better cooks than women isn't fooling anybody.

It is traditional in our society that Grandmother is the best cook.

And for both the boastful chef and Grandmother, it is simply the old story: Necessity is the mother of invention.

The chef must earn a living and Grandmother had to feed a family.

The next best cook to Grandmother, of course, is Mother. The reason Mother comes in second is that appetites were younger and the occasion more festive when Grandmother's cooking was eaten. For the same reason, Mother's cooking is usually considered by men to be superior to their wives' cooking.

Perhaps it should be mentioned that in this day of canned and frozen foods, a lot of the cooking by Grandmother, Mother and Wife is being done by men anyway—in a remote fashion.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Rules for outer space travel are demanded by U.S. through U.N. action. But with man brushing off most rules for safe living on the ground, how can there be hope he will change habits when he slams through heavens?

His holiday behavior will be just as bad on the family trip home from the moon as it has always been on the rush back from the weekend at Lake Butterball.

There must be a million rules for man's conduct on the ground but nobody pays much attention. Let human beings find themselves up for a weekend excursion to the Milky Way and they'll be as unbearable as ever.

HEIGHT CAN make a man more irresponsible than ever. Our bet is that a tourist crossing the Big Dipper from east to west, encountering one crossing from north to south, will be in for either a smashup or the usual bitter denunciations.

We can hear it now: "Where did you learn to ROCKET?" There will be the urge for a law making slower-going rockets move over and let faster ones pass. (And will Mr. Big ever admit his spaceship is slower than the other fellow's?)

"PROGRESS IN OUTER SPACE will be faster and cheaper if all nations get together and make agreements," says Henry Cabot Lodge, urging haste. He is speaking of progress in national aims and protections.

But this "faster and cheaper" stuff can also be taken as applying to space travel by mankind in general. It makes us shiver.

If man conquers outer space to the point where the whole family and the dog can be piled into a spaceship early Saturday morning for two days of fun and frolic up around the Man in the Moon, the U.N. will have its hands full regulating traffic.

The Security Council may be in daily emergency sessions hearing the complaint "I was just loafing along the American sector of Jupiter, Saturn, Mercury and Neptune when this big bum cut in ahead of me without warning."

Take it easy, Ike and Henry. The whole thing calls for a lot of thought before we all get into holiday weekend orbits around best advertised planets.

SWIVEL FRONT SEATS will be in some new auto models to make it easier getting in and out. This will help, but if roofs are made any lower an autoist had better do something about getting a swivel head and neck.

Ike on recent Newport vacation fishing trip caught one bluefish. Seeing a nearby boat landing them, he asked what lure was being used and was told it was a white feather. "The President's ship had none aboard," said a newspaper article. This indicates sabotage. The white feather is standard equipment. Red, yellow and green ones are also carried but there are times when only white does the trick. It also develops that the skipper of other boat suggested to Ike that "perhaps he should fish deeper instead of on surface." Ye mean nobody taking the President of the United States on a fishing trip knew that when blues don't hit on the surface, the thing to do is to fish by "heave and haul" method? Ike needs a new fishing aide. Even a secretary of angling.

First jaywalker to be tried in New York is let off by court. (It's hard finding a judge who doesn't zigzag, too.)

AFL-CIO Trains For Crisis

By Victor Riesel

Had recent mock air raids on our land been the real thing, stunned war correspondents would have reported that 25 of our cities and 40 millions of our people were no more than radioactive waves. But the raids were not real. So there were no war correspondents sitting in the secret subcellar anteroom outside an underground conference hall where 200 of our national leaders gathered last July. These were grim men, for these are grim times and we play grim games.

Victor Riesel

The 200 men analyzed the effect of the mock raids — but made no public announcement. It is not pleasant to talk of a bomb — already produced and tested —which can kill 10 million in New York; four million in Chicago or three million in Los Angeles.

There were 11 labor leaders and technicians in that group, acting under the direction of Joseph Keenan, national secretary of the International Electrical Workers Brotherhood.

IT WAS HIS TASK, as labor administrative assistant to the director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, among other vital matters, to check and see what remained of the labor movement after the mock raid.

It was also the task of Keenan's group, which included Stanley Ruttenberg, national AFL-CIO research director, to patch together the blitzed labor organization so that skilled workers could be strategically reassigned to those factories that were left.

In every one of those 25 cities, every one of the thousands of local and regional labor units had been wiped out. If Washington had been one of those cities, the national AFL-CIO would have shifted to its emergency standby headquarters in Richmond, Va.

This relocation site for the national staff — or what would have been left of it was set up by AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer William Schnitzler at the direction of President George Meany.

There have been "dry runs" during a mock raid warning. Simulated vital documents have been swiftly packed. A courier took them by car to Richmond.

A government spokesman tells me that important union records have been microfilmed and are in the AFL-CIO's relocated headquarters. A secondary labor chain-of-command has been set up to "assure continuity of operations in any emergency."

THIS IS NO whimsical war game. It was not designed just to make certain that labor has representation in what survives large enough to have men represent it.

Without this labor mechanism, the country might not survive. Survival would rest primarily on our ability to stay in production.

If Pittsburgh, for example, calls for 50 electricians, what better than the Electrical Workers Union's central register would have knowledge of such men?

And who better than the local Electrical Workers business agents and union hiring hall dispatchers would know which of them have what special skills, where they live or if they are alive and if they hold expendable jobs.

Even this is not being left to chance. At the moment, Mr. Keenan's group, working with government and business executives, are running a pilot study of all skills in a Midwestern industrial city.

When this survey is completed and the kinks knocked out of the study system, the technique will be spread to every industrial municipality in the land.

BUT MR. KEENAN and his colleagues go off on the secret three-day analytical games for a reason even deeper than the practice analysis of what happened to us after a mock raid. Mr. Keenan is interested in what happens to freedom under the pulverizing pressure of a mass attack.

If we are hit, the government would issue a series of control decrees with machine gun burst speed. Mr. Keenan and the labor men have studied post-Pearl Harbor Hawaii.

Martial law was declared there after the Jap attack and it lasted for almost four years. The labor men know the need for compulsory regulation and control of wages, prices, job shifting and production in the radioactive aftermath of an attack. But they went it kept to a minimum.

So when they sit in the secret council and play war games they ask to make it possible for men on the industrial home front to fight for freedom with the greatest possible freedom.

All this is reported on the theory that the more the enemy is aware of our preparations to meet him, the less likely he is to come.

The Right To Use Force

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Nothing in these changing times shows better the changes being forced on a democratic society than the authority given one man to put us into war if and when he alone decides it's necessary.

There have been two startling examples in the past few weeks: when President Eisenhower sent troops into Lebanon and the 7th Fleet into the Formosa Strait, not knowing whether these moves might trigger the Russians and Red Chinese into action.

The Constitution says only Congress has the power to declare war. And Congress is jealous of that power. But it had given Eisenhower beforehand a blank check to use American forces in the Far East and Middle East if necessary to halt the Communists.

Several presidents in American history—acting on their own constitutional authority as commander in chief of the armed forces —have sent American forces into action without waiting for congressional approval.

But, with the exception of President Truman's action in Korea, these were minor episodes compared with what might have followed Eisenhower's use of the armed forces.

Perhaps three things can be pointed to as responsible for inducing Congress—before any actual use of force was considered imminent—to give a president the right to use that force on his own judgment alone:

1. The stepped-up pace of war making—on the ground and in the air—that might make a sudden decision by the President necessary without waiting for action by Congress.

2. Assumption by this country, after more than a century of isolation, of free-world leadership and responsibility for being the bulwark against Communist aggression.

This meant assuming obligations for the defense of its allies and friends, an obligation which might be impossible to fulfill if American action were delayed too long.

3. The vivid experience of Truman in 1950 when, confronted with the lightning attack of the Communists against South Korea, he ordered American forces into action and only consulted congressional leaders later.

Letter To The Editor

I like the Letters To The Editor column very much, because in it personal opinion can be stated.

The Saturday issue of the Review carried a letter by a 16-year-old youth which I felt contained some very good points.

Just what is the attitude of a teenager who wants to play games and the neighbor calls in the law?

The natural feeling toward a person who does such a thing is antagonism. Antagonism is defined as "the active opposition of opposing forces." I happen to know that these boys are not engaged in harmful activities when passing a football and perhaps yelling some. To some people, and I am thankful for this that it is a very small minority, any activity by children is a great crime and to be dealt with by the law.

I realize there is a city ordinance which prohibits children from playing in the street. This is a good thing to remember because it is for their own protection. But where can teenage boys work off steam by hard play? Thompson Park football? No. Patterson Field? No. Alleys or streets? No. So what is the answer?

The Y-Vodrey lot at one time was to be used for this purpose, but somehow it ended up a supermarket and a parking lot. Why?

Certain people like to make a big fuss and complain about child delinquency, but do not realize that in nearly every case it is an adult who is at fault.

We had a recreation league at one time and also playgrounds. Most of the playgrounds deteriorated to a deplorable state. Look at Grant St., look at 2nd St.

Basically, boys who are in their teens require hard play to work off steam and if they have a place to engage in decent activity, they will not get into trouble. I speak as a father of six, four of whom are boys.

Healthy Unionism

By David Lawrence

'Right To Work' Laws Can Aid Labor

Sen. Knowland has gotten an unexpected assist in his contest for governor of California as the nominee of the Republican party. It comes unwittingly from the Liberal party of New York State and could play a significant part in the political debate that has arisen in California over right-to-work laws.

David Lawrence

The Liberal party of New York State asked certain questions of Frank S. Hogan, district attorney —who had just been given the nomination for U.S. senator on the Democratic ticket—and, after receiving his answers, decided last week to accord him the "liberal party nomination. One of the questions read as follows:

Will you oppose right-to-work laws?

The answer given by Mr. Hogan wins the prize of the year for adroitness and yet directness. He wrote:

"Trade unionism has brought great benefits to our national welfare. I am unalterably opposed to right-to-work laws which tend to impair the effectivenss of labor unions.

Sen. Knowland, who has been attacked for his stand on right-to-work laws, could endorse every syllable of that statement. In fact, that's exactly what he has been urging—namely, the passage of right-to-work laws that do not impair the effectiveness of labor unions.

Indeed, right-to-work laws can definitely assist in making labor unions effective. For such organizations would be stronger if they were in no respect dependent on coercion and would instead rest their case solely on voluntarism.

THE ONLY right-to-work laws which have been championed by Sen. Knowland are those which could not interfere in any way with the right of the labor unions to persuade by lawful methods any citizen to join a labor union of his choice.

This would at the same time protect the citizen who does not want to join a labor union. For it would protect him against any unlawful set-up whereby the employer is compelled to agree to fire after 30 days any employe who refuses to join a labor union.

Sam Gompers, father of the American Federation of Labor, wrote in his biography that it is almost tantamount to capital punishment if union officers prevent anyone from joining a labor union who wants to do so. That's because, as he said, to be deprived of a job in his only known trade or occupation is to impose a severe punishment upon anyone, for it takes away his means of livelihood.

By the same token, to keep out of a job a man who doesn't want to join a union is an equally unjust infringement on the right of individual liberty of citizens as guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment as well as by the First Amendment of the Constitution.

The Supreme Court of the United States in recent years has been particularly zealous in condeming interferences by either the federal or state governments with the right of a citizen to believe as he pleases and to associate with whomever he pleases. This "right to association" has figured lately in many important decisions of the Supreme Court.

PLAINLY, if a worker doesn't want to join a union because he has conscientious scruples on the subject and doesn't, for instance, want to see any part of his dues used for propaganda or "educational" campaigns designed to defeat candidates for public office that he favors, it is a constitutional privilege he enjoys not to have any of his dues money—his property—confiscated for such a purpose.

There are many citizens who do not believe they should be compelled to join any labor organization any more than they should be required to be members of a particular church or an adherent to any religion or creed as the price of a job in free America. These are among the most important of civil rights.'

Right-to-work laws that preserve the "right to believe" would not impair the legitimate objectives of a trade union.

The present federal law on labor-management relations bars the making of a closed shop agreement, which used to compel an employer to refuse to hire anyone who was not already a union member. But the same law today also unfortunately permits agreements that require the employer—30 days after a worker is hired—to dismiss him if he declines to join the labor union in his shop.

MANY STATES have sought to supersede all such statutes with state laws so that compulsory unionization would be abolished in America. The argument has been advanced that the non-union minority would be deriving benefits but sharing no expenses. Voluntary contributions, however, by non-union workers to share collective-bargaining costs have already been accepted as an alternative procedure by some unions which have achieved a majority status in a shop or plant.

To say that right-to-work laws which are limited to protecting the free choice of the citizen impair the effectiveness of labor unions would be equivalent to saying laws controlling gangsterism might also interfere with the effectiveness of labor organizations.

Good, healthy trade unionism doesn't need the coercion or the totalitarian methods of Soviet Russia to grow in membership and be successful in the United States.

Not So Startling

By Truman Twill

All of us who have been trying to learn about Hyman Rickover are indebted to Life Magazine for putting his off-beat personality under a reading glass.

What is revealed is not so startling, after all. The U.S. Navy's No. 1 atomic submarine specialist —the man who broke the crusty resistance of a tight-knit organization and thereby saved his idea about atomic power plants for submarines and ships — is a familiar figure on the American scene.

He is the fellow who believes in something so single-mindedly he is a pain in the neck to people who are better adjusted.

He is the fellow who has so much intellectual integrity he feels no need to defer to the judgments and opinions of others who know less about the matter than he knows.

He is the fellow in such a hurry to finish what he thinks is important that he is inconsiderate of others who have no similar urge to work themselves to a frazzle.

He is the intellectual eager beaver in a society that does not like to be disturbed by ideas that call for hard thinking and hard work.

Being all this, moreover, the Navy's most controversial and, currently, most respected egghead is dead-set against the kind of organizational procedure that suits the "organization man." He is not an "organization man" — and that makes him anathema to the organization.

Adm. Rickover is grateful to the U.S. Navy for his education, but is not grateful to it for the handicaps it has tried to put on his mental capacity. He is violently intolerant of mediocrity and the restrictions that mediocrity places on gifted individuals.

He is easy to dislike, because his aim always has been to get done whatever seemed to him to be important, not to make himself liked.

It has been my hunch for two years that the U.S. Naval Academy, the U.S. Military Academy and the U.S. Air Force Academy should institute courses to study Hyman Rickover and Billy Mitchell.

Their purpose would be to show young men learning how to be officers that the old school tie can become a hangman's noose if it is pulled too tight.

If the fledgling officers learned their lesson well, they would start their careers with a built-in philosophical adjustment to the problem that awaits every individual who goes against the grain of his associates.

Instead of being crushed by resistance to their individualism, they would know how to evaluate the resistance as an index to their success, provided their individualism was being put to some good use.

Best of all, they would know that the long-term result of sticking up for their principles when it was not the popular thing to do might be worth all it cost in personal popularity. They might do something historically important. They might be remembered with gratitude.

Odd Facts

The state of Montana, for the most part, still possesses much of the frank character of the old days of the "Wild West," this being reflected in the legend that the only reason Helena was selected as the name to replace Last Chance Gulch was because of the suggestion of profanity in the first part of that name.

The famous Cathedral of St. John the Divine, in New York City, was begun in 1892, but still is not completed. When complete, it will be the largest Gothic cathedral in the world — 601 feet long, 146 feet wide at the nave, 320 feet wide at the transept.

ARE THEY MY REAL PARENTS?

How could this eighteen year old girl know for sure? Fourteen years earlier, when war was raging in Europe, she had been separated from her parents who were thrown into a slave-labor camp. Since then, the parents had tried vainly to trace their daughter. At last, through one of the OVERSEAS AID Programs of America's religious faiths, the family was re-united. But only when the young girl heard her mother sing a hauntingly familiar lullaby did she know for sure—they were her parents.

Board Thanks City In Hiring School Patrol

School Supt. Ralph W. Betts today sent an official letter of thanks from the Board of Education to Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti and Council for restoring a system of adult school crossing guards.

"I am certain that parents started their children to school with a lighter heart this year because of this effort on the part of the city to safeguard them from traffic hazards," the superintendent wrote. "It has, of course, also reduced one of our major concerns."

Ten of the women guards went on duty last Wednesday when schools started the 1958-59 term. The director today announced appointment of a replacement for a woman who resigned as crossing guard at Horace Mann School and East Junior High.

The new guard is Mrs. Pauline Childs, 1505 Globe St., who began her duties today. She replaces Mrs. Evelyn Miller, 2008 Pennsylvania Ave., who resigned after the first day's service.

Heeding a warning issued last week, high school students apparently have halted a widespread practice of hitch - hiking to and from classes, the director commented today. Police had been instructed to crack down Monday if the practice had not halted.

The director also commented that police have noted "a sharp drop in hot - rodding and other traffic offenses" on the part of high school students who drive to classes. He threatened control of the youthful drivers last week. Complaints had been received of speeding and reckless driving, particularly on streets in the vicinity of the high school.

School Bus, Auto Collide

Salem Autoist, 80, Receives Citation

Some 30 United Local School District students escaped injury in a school bus collision in the Winona area Monday, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which reported two other traffic mishaps yesterday.

A car driven by Marion Stratton, 80, of Salem attempted to pass the school bus driven by Raymond Camp, 55, of Winona, as the bus driver made a left turn on County Rd. 408 south of Route 9 yesterday morning. Stratton was cited for driving left of center.

Edgar Davis, 49, of Ellwood City was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Paul Merwin of East Palestine yesterday afternoon in a citation stemming from a mishap involving Miss Alice Herriott, 450 E. Clark St., East Palestine.

Officers said Davis made a turn in front of the oncoming car of Miss Herriott on Route 14, and she swerved off the road to avoid a crash, striking the guy wire of a utility pole. Davis was charged with making an improper turn. Damage was moderate officers reported.

A jeep driven by Norman Temple, 31, of Clarkson stalled in the right northbound lane a tenth of a mile south of the junction with Route 170.

A car, driven by Anthony Gaglione, 40, of Youngstown struck the jeep and its trailer when Gaglione, following another car which pulled out and passed the stalled vehicle, failed to see the halted jeep and trailer.

U.S. To Start A-Series In Nevada Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, with its 1958 nuclear tests in the Pacific completed, starts next week an abbreviated series of atomic tests in the Nevada desert.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced the end of the test firing of nuclear weapons at the Eniwetok Proving Ground in the Pacific. It gave few details beyond calling the tests successful.

A few hours later the commission gave out a few details of the forthcoming Nevada test series which the AEC said Aug. 29 calls for only 10 test shots, all of them relatively small.

The first test, expected about Sept. 15, will be fired from a balloon. The second, set tentatively for about Sept. 25, is to be detonated atop a 50-foot tower. This would be the lowest firing platform ever used on the Nevada grounds, 90 miles northwest of Las Vegas.

The AEC said about half the shots will be in deep underground tunnels but that none of these is scheduled before Oct. 8.

All the shots are to be concluded by Oct. 31, the date proposed by President Eisenhower for a one-year suspension of nuclear tests. Oct. 31 also is the date tentatively set for the beginning of East-West talks in Geneva, Switzerland, on the banning of tests. Both the United States and Britain have offered to end testing for a year from the commencement of the talks if the Soviet Union continues its own test ban.

ARE THEY MY REAL PARENTS?

How could this eighteen year old girl know for sure? Fourteen years earlier, when war was raging in Europe, she had been separated from her parents who were thrown into a slave-labor camp. Since then, the parents had tried vainly to trace their daughter. At last, through one of the OVERSEAS AID Programs of America's religious faiths, the family was re-united. But only when the young girl heard her mother sing a hauntingly familiar lullaby did she know for sure—they were her parents.

Aiding displaced people is only one of the vital works done through religious overseas relief programs. Support your faith's program.

Board Thanks City In Hiring School Patrol

School Supt. Ralph W. Betts today sent an official letter of thanks from the Board of Education to Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti and Council for restoring a system of adult school crossing guards.

"I am certain that parents started their children to school with a lighter heart this year because of this effort on the part of the city to safeguard them from traffic hazards," the superintendent wrote. "It has, of course, also reduced one of our major concerns."

Ten of the women guards went on duty last Wednesday when schools started the 1958-59 term. The director today announced appointment of a replacement for a woman who resigned as crossing guard at Horace Mann School and East Junior High.

The new guard is Mrs. Pauline Childs, 1505 Globe St., who began her duties today. She replaces Mrs. Evelyn Miller, 2008 Pennsylvania Ave., who resigned after the first day's service.

Heeding a warning issued last week, high school students apparently have halted a widespread practice of hitch - hiking to and from classes, the director commented today. Police had been instructed to crack down Monday if the practice had not halted.

The director also commented that police have noted "a sharp drop in hot - rodding and other traffic offenses" on the part of high school students who drive to classes. He threatened control of the youthful drivers last week. Complaints had been received of speeding and reckless driving, particularly on streets in the vicinity of the high school.

Rx: Take with a grain of salt before reading

You can hardly pick up a newspaper or magazine nowadays without seeing glowing reports of new drugs, "cures," theories about elimination of diseases. Such reports cause some folks to become excited, anxious, or upset. They immediately phone their doctors, demanding "that new drug that can help a loved one."

"feature story discoveries" are reports of tests —and their availability to the public is often necessarily years away. When a new drug you read of has been completely tested and released, you can be sure when your physician prescribes it Peoples will have it, and dispense it promptly, and accurately. Midland Project Continues

Board Takes Action On New Gym

The Midland Board of Education Monday night approved color of tile and siding samples for the new gymnasium now under construction, adopted rules governing use of the structure and approved extension of the PA system and relocation of a vent in the building.

Additions to the rules, presented by Jack Haggerty of the regulations committee, included no dancing on the gym floor, advance payment of rental fees, liability insurance for all groups using the structure and authority for the janitor to expell any one violating regulations.

Leslie Roach displayed samples of tile for the gym entrance and metal siding for each end. Moving of the vent in the storage rooms will await the architect's approval. Fans may be installed later.

Immediate extension of the PA system from the high school was urged to take advantage of the exposed conduits in the gym, with a saving of costs. The board will contact the M. H. Martin Co. of Massillon for the installation.

The request of the Peoples Natural Gas Co. for right-of-way to an alley between the gym and the high school was deferred until next meeting for further study by Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor.

Supt. Ralph Jewell told the board the enrollment figure for opening day of school was 1,426. This is 31 less than last term. Last year there were 715 elementary students, this year 673, and at the high school there were 742 and 753 this year. The increase at the high school is due to more tution paying students, Jewell said.

He reminded the board members of the dinner meeting to be held at Crucible Field tonight at 6 for a get-together of new and returning faculty members.

Board members have been invited by Borough Council to attend a meeting Sept. 17 at 2 p. m. at the Borough Building when a representative of the Crucible Steel Co. will discuss ending of machinery taxes.

Machinery of industries has been removed from the tax duplicate with the result subdivisions will require more taxes from other properties.

Approved was a motion by Roach to award a one-year reservation to the C. E. Ward Co. of New London, Conn., for caps and gowns for graduating seniors at $3 each.

The board approved the hiring of Mrs. Patricia Simkin at $4,200 a year to teach at 7th St. School, and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Patricia A. Kobalter, who was hired last spring to teach this fall. Mrs. Kobalter's husband took a California job offer in August.

James Morrison was designated delegate at the Board of Education Legislative Council meeting Oct. 30 in the Penn - Harris Hotel in Harrisburg prior to the State School Directors Association convention Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

Jewell was given permission to attend the Educational Congress Oct. 1-2 at Harrisburg.

The board approved admission of Robert Higginbotham, son of Dr. Robert M. Higginbotham, one of Midland's new doctors, to kindergarten. The child is under-age, according to present rules, but psychological testing showed he is ready for school mentally, physically and socially.

Jewell said the rule on ages is not to keep children out of school but to insure the educational success of the child. If other underage children can meet psychological testing, they, too, can enter, he said.

The board will study the request of several parents for free transportation of their children from the government housing project and Midland Heights to the high school.

Jewell said that by law free transportation is offered for pupils within a 1½ - mile radius. Transportation for those outside of that area is paid on a basis of two-thirds by the board and a third by parents.

On a motion by Frank Aloi, the board approved appointment of William Walters, high school principal, as supervisor, and Miss Helen Disdore as secretary for evening extension courses at the high school.

Miss Bernice Coffin, board secretary, was authorized to advertise for bids for coal for the 1st St. School.

The $68 premium for bonds of the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. the principal, secretary and ticket sellers was approved.

Approved was the motion of James Morrison to transfer $48,446.34 from general accounts to the payroll account and $50,731.25 from the general funds to the sinking fund.

Orders placed by the superintendent during August for $1,021.77 were approved as well as general bills of $21,720.31, and gymnasium bills of $43,174.10 for a total of $64,894.41. The librarian's request for $159 for new books was approved.

Receipts of $110 were directed to proper accounts. The bank balance was given at $258,505.62, and $35,957.39 in tax money was reported deposited during August.

Former Gridder At Midland Teaching Russian At Parma

Steve Bizic, former Midland football player and onetime U. S. intelligence agent in Yugoslavia during World War II, is now teaching the Russian language at a high school at Parma and working toward his fourth college degree.

Bizic, 42, now residing at Kent, began his teaching career last year at Greensburg, Ohio, after making a late decision to enter the education field.

Born at Midland, Bizic was taken to Yugoslavia when 3 after the death of his mother, a concert pianist. He grew up in Yugoslavia where he attended trade schools and played soccer. In 1936 he returned to Midland, working days and studying English at night.

He attended high school a year and played football, later going to Canton for a while. He worked in steel mills for several years, and when World War II broke out, joined the Army and was assigned to the Office of Strategic Services.

Bizic parachuted into Yugoslavia behind Nazi lines to work with partisans, later being wounded. After the war, he wrote a book of his experiences, but it was not published — "too much factual data," Bizic says. He said it might sell if he rewrote it as a novel.

Bizic enrolled at Kent State University in 1949 — cramming the regular four - year course into two years and receiving a bachelor degree in business administration. He then served two years with the Central Intelligence Agency at Washington and in Europe.

Returning to Kent in 1953, he earned a master's degree in history along with piling up 42 hours of Russian and at the same time conducting a business of building pre - fabricated homes.

School officials and his wife, Sylvia, whom he married three years ago, persuaded him to go into teaching and he then started work on his education degree — which he now has completed except for practice teaching. He has now started work on a doctor's degree in education.

Bizic, 5 feet 11 and weighing 240 pounds, says he wants to relax after receiving his doctorate, "and concentrate on being a good teacher." They have a daughter, Nada, 1.

Democrats Adopt Phone Campaign To Sign Voters

A telephone campaign to register some 3,500 residents of East Liverpool for the Nov. 4 election was arranged at a meeting of county Democratic leaders and members of the East Liverpool Democrat Women's Club Monday night at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home.

Telephone committees were organized along with committees to provide transportation to anyone wishing to register. Transportation can be obtained by phoning FU. 6-5455 or FU. 5-8712.

Speaking at last night's meeting were Mrs. Kay Blackburn, county chairwoman; Don R. Gosney, county chairman; John Kelly of Lisbon, candidate for state representative, and James Mullen, international representative of the steelworkers union.

About 15 attended a meeting of the women's group prior to the registration session. Mrs. Elizabeth Finley, vice president, was in charge. The women will meet again Oct. 13.

The registration committee will meet next Monday night.

Hiring Drive Seen Success

City OSES Manager Says 147 Got Jobs

East Liverpool's "Hire Now" program as well as the employment drive throughout Ohio were termed successful today by C. W. Gerster, chairman of the campaign here, and by James R. Tichenor, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Gerster said the city OSES office placed 92 in new jobs in August and 146 were recalled to work by local industries.

Tichenor reported 53,000 Ohioans were either called back to work or placed in new jobs last month by the OSES. "Convert those jobs into dollars and cents and the beneficial effects of the 'Hire Now' drive on the local economy is apparent," Tichenor said.

The campaign shows its best results last week with 147 securing jobs, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, said.

Dinsmore said 112 returned to work, including 102 recalled by their employers and 10 who found other positions. An additional 35 secured jobs through the OSES office, he said.

The drive will continue through Sept. 15. The Chamber of Commerce is the local sponsor.

Arrested In New York

Wounded Man Is Accused Of Bribe Bid In TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn man, wounded by a detective in a chase, is accused of offering a $3,000 bribe to two mail sorters in attempt to win a $30,000 house on an audience participation TV giveaway show.

Gerard Mignone, 38, shot in the cheek, was reported in fair condition today at Kings County Hospital.

Mignone was arrested late Monday on complaint of the producers of "The Price Is Right" show televised by NBC.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bernard Patten of Queens said Mignone offered the bribe to two 16-year-old boys employed by a Queens mail service. The firm handles mail for The Price Is Right, which offers prizes both to contestants in the studio and to the audience.

The boys reported the alleged bribe offer.

Two district attorney's detectives went to Brooklyn to arrest Mignone. They said Mignone ran into an alley, one of the detectives fired a warning shot, the bullet ricocheted and hit Mignone.

The Queens district attorney's office said Mignone tried to rig the giveaway this way:

Last month the show displayed a photograph of a home and invited viewers to send in postcards up to Aug. 29 estimating its value. The house was to be awarded to the person coming closest.

Mignone mailed a number of postcards to himself Aug. 24, to get postmarks on them.

Early this month, the show announced the price for the home as $30,050.90. Mignone erased his own address on two cards, substituted that of the TV quiz program and listed his "guesses" as $30,250.90 and $32,050.80.

Mignone then approached Robert Griffin, who works for the Radioland firm, and asked him to slip the phonied cards in with the legitimate mail. Griffin and his fellow employe, Frank Killane, were to get $3,000 between them if Mignone won the house.

Warn Of Another Girard Case

Japs Seek Jurisdiction Over U.S. Flier In Shooting

TOKYO (AP) — Justice Minister Kiichi Aichi said today the Japanese government will insist on jurisdiction over a young American airman whose shot from a U.S. air base gate killed a young Japanese music student on a passing train.

Tokyo newspapers indicated that if the United States doesn't turn A.3.C. Peter E. Longpre of Lakewood, Calif., over to the Japanese, the Americans will have another Girard case on their hands.

Aichi told a Cabinet meeting he didn't think the shooting occurred during "performance of official duty" although Longpre was on guard duty at the entrance of Johnson Air Force Base when his carbine went off Sunday.

The 19-year-old airman said the gun fired accidentally and he did not know it was loaded. The bullet passed through a window of a passing train and hit Sachiyuki Miyamura, who was on his way to play a musical engagement at the base 20 miles northwest of Tokyo.

The Air Force is still investigating the shooting and is holding Longpre.

Under a U.S.-Japanese agreement, offenses committed by American military personnel in performance of duty come under U.S. military jurisdiction, while off-duty offenses are handled by Japanese courts.

In the controversial case of Specialist 3.C William Girard in 1957, Japan maintained similarly that although on guard duty on an Army firing range, Girard was not performing his assigned duty when he shot a Japanese woman scrap collector in the back and killed her. After a transpacific dispute in which congressmen and newspapers in both countries heatedly joined in the U.S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Japanese jurisdiction. Girard got off with a suspended sentence.

The board approved the hiring of Mrs. Patricia Simkin at $4,200 a year to teach at 7th St. School, and accepted the resignation of Mrs. Patricia A. Kobalter, who was hired last spring to teach this fall. Mrs. Kobalter's husband took a California job offer in August.

James Morrison was designated delegate at the Board of Education Legislative Council meeting Oct. 30 in the Penn - Harris Hotel in Harrisburg prior to the State School Directors Association convention Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

Jewell was given permission to attend the Educational Congress Oct. 1-2 at Harrisburg.

The board approved admission of Robert Higginbotham, son of Dr. Robert M. Higginbotham, one of Midland's new doctors, to kindergarten. The child is under-age, according to present rules, but psychological testing showed he is ready for school mentally, physically and socially.

Jewell said the rule on ages is not to keep children out of school but to insure the educational success of the child. If other underage children can meet psychological testing, they, too, can enter, he said.

The board will study the request of several parents for free transportation of their children from the government housing project and Midland Heights to the high school.

Jewell said that by law free transportation is offered for pupils within a 1½ - mile radius. Transportation for those outside of that area is paid on a basis of two-thirds by the board and a third by parents.

On a motion by Frank Aloi, the board approved appointment of William Walters, high school principal, as supervisor, and Miss Helen Disdore as secretary for evening extension courses at the high school.

Miss Bernice Coffin, board secretary, was authorized to advertise for bids for coal for the 1st St. School.

The $68 premium for bonds of the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. the principal, secretary and ticket sellers was approved.

Approved was the motion of James Morrison to transfer $48,446.34 from general accounts to the payroll account and $50,731.25 from the general funds to the sinking fund.

Orders placed by the superintendent during August for $1,021.77 were approved as well as general bills of $21,720.31, and gymnasium bills of $43,174.10 for a total of $64,894.41. The librarian's request for $159 for new books was approved.

Receipts of $110 were directed to proper accounts. The bank balance was given at $258,505.62, and $35,957.39 in tax money was reported deposited during August.

Hiring Drive Seen Success

City OSES Manager Says 147 Got Jobs

East Liverpool's "Hire Now" program as well as the employment drive throughout Ohio were termed successful today by C. W. Gerster, chairman of the campaign here, and by James R. Tichenor, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

Gerster said the city OSES office placed 92 in new jobs in August and 146 were recalled to work by local industries.

Tichenor reported 53,000 Ohioans were either called back to work or placed in new jobs last month by the OSES. "Convert those jobs into dollars and cents and the beneficial effects of the 'Hire Now' drive on the local economy is apparent," Tichenor said.

The campaign shows its best results last week with 147 securing jobs, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, said.

Dinsmore said 112 returned to work, including 102 recalled by their employers and 10 who found other positions. An additional 35 secured jobs through the OSES office, he said.

The drive will continue through Sept. 15. The Chamber of Commerce is the local sponsor.

Arrested In New York

Wounded Man Is Accused Of Bribe Bid In TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn man, wounded by a detective in a chase, is accused of offering a $3,000 bribe to two mail sorters in attempt to win a $30,000 house on an audience participation TV giveaway show.

Gerard Mignone, 38, shot in the cheek, was reported in fair condition today at Kings County Hospital.

Mignone was arrested late Monday on complaint of the producers of "The Price Is Right" show televised by NBC.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bernard Patten of Queens said Mignone offered the bribe to two 16-year-old boys employed by a Queens mail service. The firm handles mail for The Price Is Right, which offers prizes both to contestants in the studio and to the audience.

The boys reported the alleged bribe offer.

Two district attorney's detectives went to Brooklyn to arrest Mignone. They said Mignone ran into an alley, one of the detectives fired a warning shot, the bullet ricocheted and hit Mignone.

The Queens district attorney's office said Mignone tried to rig the giveaway this way:

Last month the show displayed a photograph of a home and invited viewers to send in postcards up to Aug. 29 estimating its value. The house was to be awarded to the person coming closest.

Mignone mailed a number of postcards to himself Aug. 24, to get postmarks on them.

Early this month, the show announced the price for the home as $30,050.90. Mignone erased his own address on two cards, substituted that of the TV quiz program and listed his "guesses" as $30,250.90 and $32,050.80.

Mignone then approached Robert Griffin, who works for the Radioland firm, and asked him to slip the phonied cards in with the legitimate mail. Griffin and his fellow employe, Frank Killane, were to get $3,000 between them if Mignone won the house.

William Hoge, Oma Summers and Allen Richard Ellis were assigned to the Marland Heights, Cove and Weir High Schools in Weirton, respectively.

Bertha Eloi, who was scheduled to teach in the Liberty School at Weirton, asked for a release to begin teaching in Monongalia County.

In other business, the board authorized Supt. Robert Hall, secretary, to advertise for bids to lower a ceiling in a corridor and basement of Weir High School at Weirton. The ceiling will be covered with acoustic tile, the board said.

Also discussed was enrollment at each of the county's 19 buildings and sizes of some of the classes. Total enrollment in the county is about 7,606.

Former Gridder At Midland Teaching Russian At Parma

Steve Bizic, former Midland football player and onetime U. S. intelligence agent in Yugoslavia during World War II, is now teaching the Russian language at a high school at Parma and working toward his fourth college degree.

Bizic, 42, now residing at Kent, began his teaching career last year at Greensburg, Ohio, after making a late decision to enter the education field.

Born at Midland, Bizic was taken to Yugoslavia when 3 after the death of his mother, a concert pianist. He grew up in Yugoslavia where he attended trade schools and played soccer. In 1936 he returned to Midland, working days and studying English at night.

He attended high school a year and played football, later going to Canton for a while. He worked in steel mills for several years, and when World War II broke out, joined the Army and was assigned to the Office of Strategic Services.

Bizic parachuted into Yugoslavia behind Nazi lines to work with partisans, later being wounded. After the war, he wrote a book of his experiences, but it was not published — "too much factual data," Bizic says. He said it might sell if he rewrote it as a novel.

Bizic enrolled at Kent State University in 1949 — cramming the regular four - year course into two years and receiving a bachelor degree in business administration. He then served two years with the Central Intelligence Agency at Washington and in Europe.

Returning to Kent in 1953, he earned a master's degree in history along with piling up 42 hours of Russian and at the same time conducting a business of building pre - fabricated homes.

School officials and his wife, Sylvia, whom he married three years ago, persuaded him to go into teaching and he then started work on his education degree — which he now has completed except for practice teaching. He has now started work on a doctor's degree in education.

Bizic, 5 feet 11 and weighing 240 pounds, says he wants to relax after receiving his doctorate, "and concentrate on being a good teacher." They have a daughter, Nada, 1.

Warn Of Another Girard Case

Japs Seek Jurisdiction Over U.S. Flier In Shooting

TOKYO (AP) — Justice Minister Kiichi Aichi said today the Japanese government will insist on jurisdiction over a young American airman whose shot from a U.S. air base gate killed a young Japanese music student on a passing train.

Tokyo newspapers indicated that if the United States doesn't turn A.3.C. Peter E. Longpre of Lakewood, Calif., over to the Japanese, the Americans will have another Girard case on their hands.

Aichi told a Cabinet meeting he didn't think the shooting occurred during "performance of official duty" although Longpre was on guard duty at the entrance of Johnson Air Force Base when his carbine went off Sunday.

The 19-year-old airman said the gun fired accidentally and he did not know it was loaded. The bullet passed through a window of a passing train and hit Sachiyuki Miyamura, who was on his way to play a musical engagement at the base 20 miles northwest of Tokyo.

The Air Force is still investigating the shooting and is holding Longpre.

Under a U.S.-Japanese agreement, offenses committed by American military personnel in performance of duty come under U.S. military jurisdiction, while off-duty offenses are handled by Japanese courts.

In the controversial case of Specialist 3.C William Girard in 1957, Japan maintained similarly that although on guard duty on an Army firing range, Girard was not performing his assigned duty when he shot a Japanese woman scrap collector in the back and killed her. After a transpacific dispute in which congressmen and newspapers in both countries heatedly joined in the U.S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Japanese jurisdiction. Girard got off with a suspended sentence.

Quest for Education Knows No Boundaries

WHEN SEPTEMBER COMES, children the globe over have one thing in common—the three R's—'reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic. The school bell may be whistle, horn or gong depending upon what part of the world you are in. Each state, be it rich or poor, tries to provide at least some form of education for its young citizens.

In ancient times the education of the girls was mainly domestic training. In Greece and Rome the youthful males were tutored by their fathers in ordinary moral, civic and religious duties. A Roman boy learned from his parent to reverence the gods, to read, have a knowledge of the law of his land and to conduct himself in manly exercises.

Although many of the smaller, underdeveloped nations of the world continue to ignore the distaff side of the family from an educational point of view, even these are now awakened to women's growing importance in today's affairs.

These pictures, taken in classrooms throughout the world, reveal a thirst for knowledge shared equally by both sexes, be they on a hillside in Ethiopia or in a mountain village school high in the Bolivian Andes.

Longer Lunch Period Asked For Students

School Board Agrees To Investigate And May Add 12 Minutes

The Wellsville Board of Education agreed Monday night to investigate the possibility of a longer lunch period after a group of mothers complained the present 60-minute period does not allow sufficient time for the students to eat properly and return to school.

The board agreed to consider the elimination of one homeroom period, which would add an additional 12 minutes, at least until a cafeteria can be opened.

It asked a study be made of how many children are involved and may meet later this week to act on the change.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, a former board member and spokesman for the mothers from the east and west ends of the city, explained the mothers' problem to board members.

Supt. S. E. Daw said the schools are operating under the state foundation program and are required to have six classroom periods a day with a minimum of 55 minutes each.

If the lunch period is extended, it would be necessary to start classes earlier or keep the children later in the afternoon, he explained.

Daw said considerable work has been done on the cafeteria and the mothers agreed the opening of the lunchroom would relieve the situation.

Asked when the cafeteria would be open, Daw said he hopes it would be available in January but said no definite date can be set. He showed the delegation the progress of the work.

Daw also explained the overcrowded condition in the first grade at Garfield School and said Miss Margaret Frischkorn, principal, is determining how many live east of 17th St. and could be transferred to MacDonald School.

No action was taken after the superintendent explained some parents may be willing to transfer their children and there is the possibility of children of transient workers leaving the city.

He reported the enrollment is 1,750 or 25 more than a year ago.

The board also voted that any or all of the residents in the Yellow Creek School District, who joined the Wellsville school district, may be released at any time by submitting a petition.

The petition would have to contain the signatures of a majority of eligible voters of that portion wishing to be released.

The salary of substitute teachers was raised $2 a day from $12 to $14. The board also agreed to rewrite a contract for George Lawton, a high school instructor, to include his duties as assistant football and basketball coach and track coach.

The board agreed to consider a part-time psychologist for the schools.

The resignation of Mrs. Inez Bodenheimer as an elementary teacher, effective Jan. 16, was accepted.

To relieve teachers of the added responsibility for money collected in fund drives, the board voted that all fund drives with the exception of those sponsored by the schools must furnish containers for the classrooms and the containers must be picked up the same day the collection is made.

A contract to furnish white and chocolate milk was awarded to the Russell Dairy Co. on a bid of 6½ cents a half pint for white milk and 7 cents for chocolate.

Howard Westlake received the contract to furnish coal to Garfield School and stoker coal to the Beacom Memorial gymnasium. He offered to supply either egg or stoker at $9.40 a ton.

The board asked a further investigation of a proposed fire escape at the high school auditorium after receiving a bid from a Youngstown firm of $1,050.

Reports on the boiler inspections at the MacDonald, high school and Beacom Memorial buildings was read.

Applications for cafeteria cook were received from Mrs. Barbara Franklin, Mrs. Clifford Athey, Mrs. Maxine Fulton, Mrs. Mike Rubino, Mrs. Kathryn Fogo and Mrs. William G. Johnston.

Boy Killed By Car

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pursuing his model airplane into Lindberg Blvd. in suburban Berea, Douglas Crowe, 8, was struck by an automobile Monday night and killed.

Hope Brighter For Accord In Car Industry

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers and car industry management squared off today in their contract negotiations battle amid new hopes of settlement without a strike.

On the surface, at least, conditions appeared more favorable than 24 hours earlier in the stalemated talks.

With UAW President Walter Reuther on the scene as a negotiator, Chrysler, Ford and General Motors all went into separate negotiation session with the UAW.

Overnight the UAW called off its public meetings scheduled for today at which it had intended to report on negotiations to invited community leaders of auto industry cities.

Also, Reuther and Vice President Louis G. Seaton of General Motors reported a better understanding.

Reuther also indicated something of the same had been accomplished at a negotiations meeting he attended at Ford.

The negotiations, tied up tight since previous contracts expired last Memorial Day weekend, are reputedly now in a hard and fast stage as the time draws near for the car manufacturers' big 1959 new model car production race.

Enrollment In Schools Continues To Increase

Enrollment in East Liverpool schools climbed to 5,408 pupils Monday, Supt. Ralph W. Betts' office reported today.

The attendance shows a gain of 12 since Friday.

Man Admits Killing Mother

Minerva Strangling Confessed By Son

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putnam said James D. Rutledge, 32, added a written statement Monday night to an oral admission he made on a train ride from Chicago that he had strangled his mother at their home in Minerva Aug. 25.

The 6-foot-2, 235-pound Rutledge, paroled from Mansfield Reformatory June 13, refused to talk with reporters, and Putnam would not disclose what was in the written statement.

Earlier, however, Putnam said Rutledge had told him on the train that he strangled Mrs. Mary J. Rutledge, 58, during an argument. Her body was not found until Aug. 29.

Rutledge was arrested in a Chicago Loop tavern Sunday night and waived extradition early Monday. County Detective Norman Kandell, Minerva Police Chief Don McConahey and Patrolman K. W. Thompson, along with the prosecutor, flew to Chicago and questioned Rutledge for several hours before starting the return trip.

Police quoted him as saying "I was so angry I blacked out" during an argument with his mother over a 40-year-old woman he had brought home from a lonely hearts club meeting. He said when he recovered his senses he was driving his mother's car in Canton.

Police said Rutledge returned home after the killing and sold his mother's furniture. Rutledge, however, said he did not remember this and that everything has been hazy in his mind until he came to Chicago.

He told police he and his mother argued after the woman had left. He said he went upstairs to bed but came down several hours later. He said the quarrel was resumed and he blacked out as he started upstairs again.

Campaign Begins To Secure Doctor In Ohio Township

A movement has been launched to encourage a physician to serve the Fairview - Ohio Township near Midland.

The area has been without the services of a resident physician since the death of Dr. R. B. Dawson of Fairview, who served for several generations.

The leaders of the movement to locate a doctor pointed out that Dr. Dawson "served the district faithfully for most of his long life."

They added that they seek to locate "another doctor with the spirit of devotion that Dr. Dawson was noted for." A horse and buggy doctor of the old school, he served a wide rural area back of Midland, maintaining his office in Fairview.

A committee will be appointed soon to push with the campaign.

not hit its 1950-51 levels, but if Congress had enacted all the pump-priming measures introduced at that time "we would have added $208 billion to the deficit in the next five years," he asserted.

"The credit for holding down the budget goes to President Eisenhower and not the Democratic Congress," Bricker said. "In the last 25 years, Congress has invaded the functions of the state and local governments. Many state officials come to Washington with hat in hand because under the New Deal they got the idea that if anything comes from Washington it is free."

Bricker turned to high farm income as one of the bright spots in the GOP's fall campaign outlook.

—:—

HE TERMED the national farm income "the highest in history" and declared that Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson now is the "most popular man in the Cabinet," although congressmen of his own party were calling for his resignation a few months ago.

Referring to his 12 years' service on the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, Bricker said he has assurance "from one of our great generals from Ohio that we could deliver the bombs, regardless of defenses."

"One of the bombs dropped in the South Pacific last year had power equal to all the bombs dropped in World War II," he remarked. "I think from that you can appreciate the power that science has developed and put into the hands of governments."

Bricker said he agrees with Winston Churchill that it was only the power of the atomic bomb that "prevented the Russians from marching to the Atlantic and subjugating all the governments in their path."

—:—

"IF ALL-OUT war came, it could make the world uninhabitable," he said. "The lucky ones would be those who died in the first blast and shock, for those who remained would be in a living death."

Bricker declared that Eisenhower "is determined above all else to preserve the peace of the world."

"If this country can hold the peace of the world until the subjugated people can regain control of their own government, this generation will be looked upon as blessed," he continued.

Atty. James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, county GOP chairman, presided. Bricker was introduced by Judge Carl Weinman of Steubenville. Invocation was by Fr. Robert G. Moorhead, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, and benediction was by Judge Elmer T. Phillips of the 7th District Court of Appeals, which is meeting at Lisbon.

—:—

OUT OF A LIST of four state officers slated to appear, only one attended. He was State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy, seeking re-election. McSweeney introduced state and district candidates, including: Francis Wallace of Bellaire, nominee for 18th District congressman; Atty. Walter Jay Hunston of Salem, for state senator, and five incumbents seeking new terms—State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon; County Commissioners Galen H. Greenisen of Salem and Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, Auditor I. J. Vorndran of East Liverpool and Court Clerk John W. Peterson of Lisbon.

He also presented Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, seeking a new term; Robert B. Ford of Geauga County, a candidate for District Court of Appeals, and Wade Loop of Salem, candidate for a county judgeship.

MAYORS OF MOST Columbiana County cities and villages attended, along with members of their councils.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence gave the welcoming address, Mrs. Walter Jay Hunston led group singing. Hostesses were Mrs. Helen Brokaw, Miss Marsha Shinton, Miss Penny Johnson and Mrs. Margarite Laughlin of East Liverpool; Miss Shirley Andrews of Wellsville; Mrs. Dorothy Kettlewell and Miss Joanne Dixon of Lisbon and Mrs. Bernice Melitschka, Mrs. Dorothy Cope and Miss Carmen McNicol of Salem.

Longer Lunch Period Asked For Students

School Board Agrees To Investigate And May Add 12 Minutes

The Wellsville Board of Education agreed Monday night to investigate the possibility of a longer lunch period after a group of mothers complained the present 60-minute period does not allow sufficient time for the students to eat properly and return to school.

The board agreed to consider the elimination of one homeroom period, which would add an additional 12 minutes, at least until a cafeteria can be opened.

It asked a study be made of how many children are involved and may meet later this week to act on the change.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, a former board member and spokesman for the mothers from the east and west ends of the city, explained the mothers' problem to board members.

Supt. S. E. Daw said the schools are operating under the state foundation program and are required to have six classroom periods a day with a minimum of 55 minutes each.

If the lunch period is extended, it would be necessary to start classes earlier or keep the children later in the afternoon, he explained.

Daw said considerable work has been done on the cafeteria and the mothers agreed the opening of the lunchroom would relieve the situation.

Asked when the cafeteria would be open, Daw said he hopes it would be available in January but said no definite date can be set. He showed the delegation the progress of the work.

Daw also explained the overcrowded condition in the first grade at Garfield School and said Miss Margaret Frischkorn, principal, is determining how many live east of 17th St. and could be transferred to MacDonald School.

No action was taken after the superintendent explained some parents may be willing to transfer their children and there is the possibility of children of transient workers leaving the city.

He reported the enrollment is 1,750 or 25 more than a year ago.

The board also voted that any or all of the residents in the Yellow Creek School District, who joined the Wellsville school district, may be released at any time by submitting a petition.

The petition would have to contain the signatures of a majority of eligible voters of that portion wishing to be released.

The salary of substitute teachers was raised $2 a day from $12 to $14. The board also agreed to rewrite a contract for George Lawton, a high school instructor, to include his duties as assistant football and basketball coach and track coach.

The board agreed to consider a part-time psychologist for the schools.

The resignation of Mrs. Inez Bodenheimer as an elementary teacher, effective Jan. 16, was accepted.

To relieve teachers of the added responsibility for money collected in fund drives, the board voted that all fund drives with the exception of those sponsored by the schools must furnish containers for the classrooms and the containers must be picked up the same day the collection is made.

A contract to furnish white and chocolate milk was awarded to the Russell Dairy Co. on a bid of 6½ cents a half pint for white milk and 7 cents for chocolate.

Howard Westlake received the contract to furnish coal to Garfield School and stoker coal to the Beacom Memorial gymnasium. He offered to supply either egg or stoker at $9.40 a ton.

The board asked a further investigation of a proposed fire escape at the high school auditorium after receiving a bid from a Youngstown firm of $1,050.

Reports on the boiler inspections at the MacDonald, high school and Beacom Memorial buildings was read.

Applications for cafeteria cook were received from Mrs. Barbara Franklin, Mrs. Clifford Athey, Mrs. Maxine Fulton, Mrs. Mike Rubino, Mrs. Kathryn Fogo and Mrs. William G. Johnston.

He listed 574 students at Fairview, 59 at Industry and 272 at Logan School in Ohio View along with 291 tuition students. A year ago, the attendance was 845 in the three buildings plus 266 tuition pupils.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pursuing his model airplane into Lindberg Blvd. in suburban Berea, Douglas Crowe, 8, was struck by an automobile Monday night and killed.

Hope Brighter For Accord In Car Industry

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers and car industry management squared off today in their contract negotiations battle amid new hopes of settlement without a strike.

On the surface, at least, conditions appeared more favorable than 24 hours earlier in the stalemated talks.

With UAW President Walter Reuther on the scene as a negotiator, Chrysler, Ford and General Motors all went into separate negotiation session with the UAW.

Overnight the UAW called off its public meetings scheduled for today at which it had intended to report on negotiations to invited community leaders of auto industry cities.

Also, Reuther and Vice President Louis G. Seaton of General Motors reported a better understanding.

Reuther also indicated something of the same had been accomplished at a negotiations meeting he attended at Ford.

The negotiations, tied up tight since previous contracts expired last Memorial Day weekend, are reputedly now in a hard and fast stage as the time draws near for the car manufacturers' big 1959 new model car production race.

Enrollment In Schools Continues To Increase

The next enrollment check will be made Oct. 1.

Meanwhile, classes at Glenmoor School resumed this morning after being closed for a day and half because of a lack of water. Classes were dismissed Friday noon when a water pump became defective and remained suspended Monday to allow plumbers to complete repairs.

Daytime Has Its Advantages

The viewer addicted to the TV columns must be awfully confused as to whether it's better for a performer to carve a niche for himself in daytime television or play the game of chance in the night time.

Marie Torre

In recent months everybody's had a theory. Garry Moore and Bob Crosby, for two, likened their matinee existence to a hideout and moved into the more populated night-time belt, while another school of performers, represented by Liberace, Peter Lind Hayes and Jimmy Dean, started winking at the housewives.

Last week, the latter contingent found a new compatriot in Hal March, the affable superintendent of "The $64,000 Question."

-:-

BOTH MARCH and "Question" are as certain to remain together on TV in the new season as next year's taxes. It's the precariousness of night-time television that's put daytime thoughts in his head. And if you can take another "theory," March's is:

"The night-time pressure is inhuman. Murderous. No fun. If I wanted to stay in prime time after I finished with 'Question' I'd have the choice of going into another quiz or tackling a comedy.

"Well, there isn't enough comedy material around to sustain me week in and week out, meaning I'd be a good target for the critics. And what would I accomplish by accepting another quiz?

"The more I think about it the better the daytime idea sounds. If you have a hit in the afternoon you're assured of a long run. I'd settle for Garry Moore's eight years any time."

-:-

IT'S THE OPINION of March's producer, Joe Cates, that his star is a conservative dreamer.

"The time," Cates maintains, "is ripe for the emergency of a new daytime personality—and no reason why March shouldn't be it.

"He comes with a show business background of 18 years. He's a singer, comedian, legitimate actor and, more important, a charming guy. He's also proved on 'question' that he can sell to women. He ought to be a shoo-in."

Cates' enthusiastic utterances were listed to by NBC last week. The proposal, earmarked for January, calls for a daily half-hour show in which March would be permitted to display his versatility.

He would appear in comedy sketches with old cronies Bob Sweeney and Tom d'Audrea, frolic in musical numbers, interview guests and comment on women's fashions from a male point of view.

"The plans we have for the housewives are unlimited," said March, who might have gone into greater detail if he hadn't felt as weary as he did from the rigors of an eight-week straw hat tour in "A Hole in the Head."

The tour ends soon in Flint, Mich., and then March will be reunited with the only housewife he really cares about—the one who lives under his roof.

-:-

NBC, STILL fighting the color battle alone, has a tint schedule of 13½ hours a week this season. . . . Fred Astaire, forever the perfectionist, has been rehearsing more than two months for his TV debut Oct. 17. . . .

Coming back for a fifth round of television, "December Bride" resumes on CBS Oct. 2 with Edgar and Frances Bergen (accompanied by Charlie McCarthy, of course) as initial guests. . . .

Elfrida Von Nardroff is still recuperating from the "Twenty-One" ordeal in Easthampton, L. I., where she last was seen playing tennis with Sen. Jacob Javits and Wall Street's Cliff Hollander. . . .

Shades of the quiz scandal! "I wish," says producer John Guedel (of the Groucho Marx shows), "that the picked numbers on the wheel on 'You Bet Your Life' would turn up once in awhile. We're getting a little concerned ourselves that the public might think the wheel is 'controlled.' ". . . .

ON OCT. 6, Charles Van Doren becomes a permanent member of Dave Garroway's "Today" show (NBC). Tapping versatile capabilities, Van Doren will dabble in fields of science, religion, education and literature. . . .

"Masquerade Party" and "Keep Talking," properties of producer Herb Wolfe, are both droll pleasantries which regrettably face uncertain futures. They were conceived by the Wolfe Office, a forerunner in the creation of quiz giveaways ("Break the bank," etc.), before the company was able to foresee the giveaway disaster. . . .

The TV industry neared the billion-dollar mark in broadcasting revenues in 1957. . . .

Steve Allen is the lyricist of the most-recorded tune in Tin Pan Alley—"Impossible"—which he wrote as the theme song for his Sunday night show.

Court Grants Autopsy Study In Tokyo Trial

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo District Court today granted a defense request for two more Japanese experts to study the report of an autopsy performed on T. A. D. Jones Jr., New Haven businessman whom Joseph P. Crowley is accused of beating to death.

The two experts are Dr. Kentaro Shimizu, professor of surgery at Tokyo University, and Dr. Shoto Ishida, a brain specialist.

In a previous session the court appointed Dr. Kyuhei Nakadate, a forensic medical expert, to study the autopsy results.

The three experts were picked by the three Japanese judges who are hearing the manslaughter trial of Crowley, also of New Haven.

Crowley, 49, is charged with fatally beating Jones, his 42-year-old brother-in-law and business associate, in their Tokyo hotel suite early on May 8 after an all-night drinking party.

He has pleaded innocent.

The official autopsy report said Jones died of a cerebral hemorrhage caused by blows to the head.

Crowley's attorney, Arthur K. Mori, told a reporter the defense was not satisfied with the original autopsy findings.

The court adjourned immediately after the two additional experts were picked. The next trial session is Thursday.

Bodies Of Three Other Fishermen Found In Lakes

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Six days after washing ashore the body of one Akron fisherman, Lake Erie's waters Monday gave up the bodies of his three companions.

The four, all Ohio Edison Co. linemen, were fishing off Manchester Beach, about 10 miles west of here, on Labor Day weekend when their 14-foot outboard motorboat capsized.

Although they left Akron on the night of Aug. 29, a search for them was not begun until Tuesday, a few hours before the body of Terrill Grammer, 30, was washed ashore at Mill Creek, Pa.

Monday the body of Granville P. Holcomb, 30, was washed ashore near Manchester beach, and the bodies of Ralph L. Wallace, 26, and Howard Rose, 36, of Barberton, an Akron suburb, were found within a half mile of each other and about five miles farther east.

Husband's Appeal To Wife Watched In Minnesota Vote

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Voter reaction to a "Coya Come Home" appeal by her husband is being tested in the Minnesota primary election today as Democratic Rep. Coya Knutson seeks renomination.

Being nominated in the statewide primary are candidates for the U.S. Senate, eight other seats in the House of Representatives, and a full slate of state offices.

Mrs. Knutson, 45, last spring disregarded the written request of her husband Adny, 50, that she give up politics to restore their home life. Knutson operates a small cafe-hotel in Oklee, Minn., a village of 500.

Sunday, when she spoke to an audience of 1,200 in Oklee, her husband stayed in the hotel, waiting for her to come and see him. She didn't.

"I'm too busy working to come back and fight a few personal battles," she said.

Knutson is supporting Marvin Evenson, Moorhead businessman who is Mrs. Knutson's opponent in the 9th Dist. Evenson told voters Mrs. Knutson isn't doing her job, that she misses too many roll calls. Mrs. Knutson retorted that her attendance record is better than most and that she has a heavy committee load.

Most observers believe Mrs. Knutson should beat Evenson, but will face a stiff challenge in November from State Rep. Odin Langen, Kennedy farmer who is unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Special Photo Plates May Hold Space Secrets

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Special photographic plates bearing what scientists hope are further clues to the secrets of outer space were being readied here today for a trip to Massachusetts Institute of Technology for analysis.

The data was obtained by a specially built lead-shielded gamma ray telescope camera towed to an altitude of more than 19 miles by a huge 303-foot long plastic balloon.

The balloon, launched by General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis Sunday night, soared to 104,600 feet, where it remained for some 16 hours.

A triggering device cut the 900-pound telescope and its 500-pound lead shield free. It descended by parachute and was recovered on a southeastern Minnesota farm.

The telescope was devised by MIT scientists in an attempt to provide additional information about the source and direction of cosmic rays, considered a potential hazard to space flight.

Ohio Will Study Large Number Of Needy Children

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill told a group of state welfare leaders here today the state will focus its attention this year on the growing number of dependent children on Ohio's welfare rolls.

Addressing the 68th annual Ohio Welfare Conference, O'Neill said he is appointing a committee of civic and welfare leaders to study the problem.

In 1953, the governor said, some 37,000 children were receiving aid.

"Last year, more than 57,000 received this aid. This increase of more than 50 per cent in less than four years emphasizes not only the financial, but also the social problem we face in caring for these young children," O'Neill said.

Violation Repeated

KING HILL, Idaho (AP — Last Friday westbound truck driver Jack Woody of Lakeland, Fla., appeared before Justice of the Peace Lynn Sherman and paid a $10 fine for an overweight load. Woody passed through King Hill again Monday on his return trip. Same story, same load, same judge, same fine.

Authorities Hunt Missing AF Plane In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—State police, Civil Air Patrol personnel and sheriff's deputies searched a remote, mountainous section of southern West Virginia today for a missing Air Force plane.

The plane, a C-45 en route from Bluefield to Columbus, Ind., was believed down in a section of Raleigh County about 40 miles southwest of this West Virginia capital.

Reports from the scene said no trace had been found of the silver-colored Beechcraft carrying four persons. The intensive ground search was launched Monday night after two boys reported finding a crashed plane.

At Columbus, Ind., Bakalar Air Force Base identified those aboard the plane as Maj. George A. Smith, Bakalar operations director; Capt. Edward E. Goltkamp, also of Bakalar, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, Civil Air Patrol officers from Huntington, W. Va.

The plane was one of several taking part in a simulated search mission during the weekend.

Plans Radar On Pike

CLEVELAND (AP)—High-speed accidents on the Ohio turnpike soon will bring radar enforcement of the speed limits, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the toll road, says. Conferences with the state highway patrol on how radar can best be used on the turnpike already have been held, and some problems still must be met. To try to flag down a turnpike speeder doing 70 or 80 miles an hour is hazardous for a patrolman. And to try to pursue him in a cruiser from a standing stop requires dangerously fast driving over a considerable distance.

O'Neill Sets Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill will embark on a new series of campaign breakfast meetings, teas, dinners and rallies next Monday in Mansfield.

Probe Sought On Soldiers, Sailors Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—An investigation of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home in Sandusky was sought today by a joint veterans Cuyahoga County veterans' organizations.

In addition to a resolution passed Monday night, the joint commission set up a committee to ask Gov. C. William O'Neill to appoint an investigating body composed of representatives of all veterans groups.

Morris Morgenstern of the Jewish War Veterans, who introduced the resolution, said an investigation last week by the Home's board of trustees was a "whitewash."

"Things haven't been proper over there," Morgenstern charged. "Printed charges of food pilfering and squandering of residents' money must be investigated."

The trustees on Saturday condemned Maj. John W. Parker, the home's commandant, for accepting contributions from residents to defray convention expenses for the National Assn. of State Veterans Homes. The trustees cleared Major Parker of wrong intent.

The home has about 800 residents.

The joint veterans commission includes organizations with about 5,000 members in greater Cleveland. Not included are the largest veterans organizations: American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ashtabula County Gets Sewage Facility Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — An advance of $30,063 to Ashtabula County, Ohio, for use in preparing final plans and specifications for sewage facilities was announced today by the Community Facilities Administration.

The area to be served by the proposed new facilities, estimated to cost one million dollars, comprises the northerly half of Saybrook Township. Residents now use septic tanks or privately built sewers.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Daytime Has Its Advantages

The viewer addicted to the TV columns must be awfully confused as to whether it's better for a performer to carve a niche for himself in daytime television or play the game of chance in the night time.

Marie Torre

In recent months everybody's had a theory. Garry Moore and Bob Crosby, for two, likened their matinee existence to a hideout and moved into the more populated night-time belt, while another school of performers, represented by Liberace, Peter Lind Hayes and Jimmy Dean, started winking at the housewives.

Last week, the latter contingent found a new compatriot in Hal March, the affable superintendent of "The $64,000 Question."

-:-

BOTH MARCH and "Question" are as certain to remain together on TV in the new season as next year's taxes. It's the precariousness of night-time television that's put daytime thoughts in his head. And if you can take another "theory," March's is:

"The night-time pressure is inhuman. Murderous. No fun. If I wanted to stay in prime time after I finished with 'Question' I'd have the choice of going into another quiz or tackling a comedy.

"Well, there isn't enough comedy material around to sustain me week in and week out, meaning I'd be a good target for the critics. And what would I accomplish by accepting another quiz?

"The more I think about it the better the daytime idea sounds. If you have a hit in the afternoon you're assured of a long run. I'd settle for Garry Moore's eight years any time."

-:-

IT'S THE OPINION of March's producer, Joe Cates, that his star is a conservative dreamer.

"The time," Cates maintains, "is ripe for the emergency of a new daytime personality—and no reason why March shouldn't be it.

"He comes with a show business background of 18 years. He's a singer, comedian, legitimate actor and, more important, a charming guy. He's also proved on 'question' that he can sell to women. He ought to be a shoo-in."

Cates' enthusiastic utterances were listed to by NBC last week. The proposal, earmarked for January, calls for a daily half-hour show in which March would be permitted to display his versatility.

He would appear in comedy sketches with old cronies Bob Sweeney and Tom d'Audrea, frolic in musical numbers, interview guests and comment on women's fashions from a male point of view.

"The plans we have for the housewives are unlimited," said March, who might have gone into greater detail if he hadn't felt as weary as he did from the rigors of an eight-week straw hat tour in "A Hole in the Head."

The tour ends soon in Flint, Mich., and then March will be reunited with the only housewife he really cares about—the one who lives under his roof.

-:-

NBC, STILL fighting the color battle alone, has a tint schedule of 13½ hours a week this season. . . . Fred Astaire, forever the perfectionist, has been rehearsing more than two months for his TV debut Oct. 17. . . .

Coming back for a fifth round of television, "December Bride" resumes on CBS Oct. 2 with Edgar and Frances Bergen (accompanied by Charlie McCarthy, of course) as initial guests. . . .

Elfrida Von Nardroff is still recuperating from the "Twenty-One" ordeal in Easthampton, L. I., where she last was seen playing tennis with Sen. Jacob Javits and Wall Street's Cliff Hollander. . . .

Shades of the quiz scandal! "I wish," says producer John Guedel (of the Groucho Marx shows), "that the picked numbers on the wheel on 'You Bet Your Life' would turn up once in awhile. We're getting a little concerned ourselves that the public might think the wheel is 'controlled.' ". . . .

ON OCT. 6, Charles Van Doren becomes a permanent member of Dave Garroway's "Today" show (NBC). Tapping versatile capabilities, Van Doren will dabble in fields of science, religion, education and literature. . . .

"Masquerade Party" and "Keep Talking," properties of producer Herb Wolfe, are both droll pleasantries which regrettably face uncertain futures. They were conceived by the Wolfe Office, a forerunner in the creation of quiz giveaways ("Break the bank," etc.), before the company was able to foresee the giveaway disaster. . . .

The TV industry neared the billion-dollar mark in broadcasting revenues in 1957. . . .

Steve Allen is the lyricist of the most-recorded tune in Tin Pan Alley—"Impossible"—which he wrote as the theme song for his Sunday night show.

Bodies Of Three Other Fishermen Found In Lakes

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Six days after washing ashore the body of one Akron fisherman, Lake Erie's waters Monday gave up the bodies of his three companions.

The four, all Ohio Edison Co. linemen, were fishing off Manchester Beach, about 10 miles west of here, on Labor Day weekend when their 14-foot outboard motorboat capsized.

Although they left Akron on the night of Aug. 29, a search for them was not begun until Tuesday, a few hours before the body of Terrill Grammer, 30, was washed ashore at Mill Creek, Pa.

Monday the body of Granville P. Holcomb, 30, was washed ashore near Manchester beach, and the bodies of Ralph L. Wallace, 26, and Howard Rose, 36, of Barberton, an Akron suburb, were found within a half mile of each other and about five miles farther east.

Court Grants Autopsy Study In Tokyo Trial

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo District Court today granted a defense request for two more Japanese experts to study the report of an autopsy performed on T. A. D. Jones Jr., New Haven businessman whom Joseph P. Crowley is accused of beating to death.

The two experts are Dr. Kentaro Shimizu, professor of surgery at Tokyo University, and Dr. Shoto Ishida, a brain specialist.

In a previous session the court appointed Dr. Kyuhei Nakadate, a forensic medical expert, to study the autopsy results.

The three experts were picked by the three Japanese judges who are hearing the manslaughter trial of Crowley, also of New Haven.

Crowley, 49, is charged with fatally beating Jones, his 42-year-old brother-in-law and business associate, in their Tokyo hotel suite early on May 8 after an all-night drinking party.

He has pleaded innocent.

The official autopsy report said Jones died of a cerebral hemorrhage caused by blows to the head.

Crowley's attorney, Arthur K. Mori, told a reporter the defense was not satisfied with the original autopsy findings.

The court adjourned immediately after the two additional experts were picked. The next trial session is Thursday.

Special Photo Plates May Hold Space Secrets

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Special photographic plates bearing what scientists hope are further clues to the secrets of outer space were being readied here today for a trip to Massachusetts Institute of Technology for analysis.

The data was obtained by a specially built lead-shielded gamma ray telescope camera towed to an altitude of more than 19 miles by a huge 303-foot long plastic balloon.

The balloon, launched by General Mills, Inc., of Minneapolis Sunday night, soared to 104,600 feet, where it remained for some 16 hours.

A triggering device cut the 900-pound telescope and its 500-pound lead shield free. It descended by parachute and was recovered on a southeastern Minnesota farm.

The telescope was devised by MIT scientists in an attempt to provide additional information about the source and direction of cosmic rays, considered a potential hazard to space flight.

Ohio Will Study Large Number Of Needy Children

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill told a group of state welfare leaders here today the state will focus its attention this year on the growing number of dependent children on Ohio's welfare rolls.

Addressing the 68th annual Ohio Welfare Conference, O'Neill said he is appointing a committee of civic and welfare leaders to study the problem.

In 1953, the governor said, some 37,000 children were receiving aid.

"Last year, more than 57,000 received this aid. This increase of more than 50 per cent in less than four years emphasizes not only the financial, but also the social problem we face in caring for these young children," O'Neill said.

Violation Repeated

Husband's Appeal To Wife Watched In Minnesota Vote

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Voter reaction to a "Coya Come Home" appeal by her husband is being tested in the Minnesota primary election today as Democratic Rep. Coya Knutson seeks renomination.

Being nominated in the statewide primary are candidates for the U.S. Senate, eight other seats in the House of Representatives, and a full slate of state offices.

Mrs. Knutson, 45, last spring disregarded the written request of her husband Adny, 50, that she give up politics to restore their home life. Knutson operates a small cafe-hotel in Oklee, Minn., a village of 500.

Sunday, when she spoke to an audience of 1,200 in Oklee, her husband stayed in the hotel, waiting for her to come and see him. She didn't.

"I'm too busy working to come back and fight a few personal battles," she said.

Knutson is supporting Marvin Evenson, Moorhead businessman who is Mrs. Knutson's opponent in the 9th Dist. Evenson told voters Mrs. Knutson isn't doing her job, that she misses too many roll calls. Mrs. Knutson retorted that her attendance record is better than most and that she has a heavy committee load.

Most observers believe Mrs. Knutson should beat Evenson, but will face a stiff challenge in November from State Rep. Odin Langen, Kennedy farmer who is unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Authorities Hunt Missing AF Plane In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—State police, Civil Air Patrol personnel and sheriff's deputies searched a remote, mountainous section of southern West Virginia today for a missing Air Force plane.

The plane, a C-45 en route from Bluefield to Columbus, Ind., was believed down in a section of Raleigh County about 40 miles southwest of this West Virginia capital.

Reports from the scene said no trace had been found of the silver-colored Beechcraft carrying four persons. The intensive ground search was launched Monday night after two boys reported finding a crashed plane.

At Columbus, Ind., Bakalar Air Force Base identified those aboard the plane as Maj. George A. Smith, Bakalar operations director; Capt. Edward E. Goltkamp, also of Bakalar, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, Civil Air Patrol officers from Huntington, W. Va.

The plane was one of several taking part in a simulated search mission during the weekend.

Plans Radar On Pike

CLEVELAND (AP)—High-speed accidents on the Ohio turnpike soon will bring radar enforcement of the speed limits, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the toll road, says. Conferences with the state highway patrol on how radar can best be used on the turnpike already have been held, and some problems still must be met. To try to flag down a turnpike speeder doing 70 or 80 miles an hour is hazardous for a patrolman. And to try to pursue him in a cruiser from a standing stop requires dangerously fast driving over a considerable distance.

O'Neill Sets Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill will embark on a new series of campaign breakfast meetings, teas, dinners and rallies next Monday in Mansfield.

Probe Sought On Soldiers, Sailors Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—An investigation of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home in Sandusky was sought today by a joint veterans Cuyahoga County veterans' organizations.

In addition to a resolution passed Monday night, the joint commission set up a committee to ask Gov. C. William O'Neill to appoint an investigating body composed of representatives of all veterans groups.

Morris Morgenstern of the Jewish War Veterans, who introduced the resolution, said an investigation last week by the Home's board of trustees was a "whitewash."

"Things haven't been proper over there," Morgenstern charged. "Printed charges of food pilfering and squandering of residents' money must be investigated."

The trustees on Saturday condemned Maj. John W. Parker, the home's commandant, for accepting contributions from residents to defray convention expenses for the National Assn. of State Veterans Homes. The trustees cleared Major Parker of wrong intent.

The home has about 800 residents.

The joint veterans commission includes organizations with about 5,000 members in greater Cleveland. Not included are the largest veterans organizations: American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ashtabula County Gets Sewage Facility Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — An advance of $30,063 to Ashtabula County, Ohio, for use in preparing final plans and specifications for sewage facilities was announced today by the Community Facilities Administration.

The area to be served by the proposed new facilities, estimated to cost one million dollars, comprises the northerly half of Saybrook Township. Residents now use septic tanks or privately built sewers.

Pirates Beat Reds, 4-1; Face Giants In Showdown Series

Holding Lead Of 2½ Games For Runnerup

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who haven't been this high in Ntaional League standings since 1944, open a three-game showdown for second place tonight with the slumping San Francisco Giants.

The Pirates took a 2½ game hold on the runnerup spot by beating Cincinnati 4-1 Monday night in the only game scheduled in the majors. That means the Giants, who have lost five of their last six, must sweep at Pittsburgh to regain second place in the standings.

They'll complete a suspended game of July 27 tonight before starting a regularly scheduled game. Play resumes with the score tied 3-all and the Bucs at bat in the eighth inning.

Right-hander Bob Porterfield (2-6) is Manager Danny Murtaugh's choice for the completion of the six-week old suspension for the Pirates, who have won six of their last nine. Righty Paul Giel (4-4) is the Giants' choice.

In the regularly scheduled game, the Pirates, who stand 9-10 against the Giants for the season, will go with rookie right-hander George Witt (8-2) against Stu Miller (5-7). Witt, who shut out Milwaukee 1-0 in 10 innings with a five-hitter in his last start, has won six straight. No one has won seven in a row this season in the NL.

It was Curt Raydon, another rookie right-hander, who beat the Redlegs. Although giving up only four hits, he needed Don Gross' hitless mop up after the Reds scored an unearned run in the seventh on a pair of errors by Dick Stuart.

Raydon (8-4) also singled for his first major league hit, in 36 at bats, during a three - run Pirate fifth against loser Tom Acker (3-3).

Roberto Clemente hit three triples, tying the modern major league record for one game. He's the 31st major leaguer to do it.

The first place Milwaukee Braves, now seven games ahead, are at home tonight with Curt Willey (9-5) facing Cincinnati's Alex Kellner (5-3). Any combinaton of Milwaukee victories and-or Pirate defeats totaling 10 gives the Braves their second straight pennant.

The Chicago Cubs, who just swept three from San Francisco, are at St. Louis behind either Dave Hillman (4-7) or Taylor Phillips (7-8) tonight. Sam Jones, the first to strike out 200 in the NL since 1941, goes after his 13th victory for the Cards. He's lost 11.

Los Angeles and the last place Phillies also have a July 27 game to complete at Philadelphia. It's Johnny Klippstein (5-5) for the Dodgers in the suspended game. The Phils, leading 2-1 in the sixth inning, will go with Jim Hearn (4-3). Dodger Sandy Koufax (10-9) is the probable starter against Ray Semproch (13-9) in the regulation game as the Phils try to halt their losing string at seven.

World Series Scheduled To Open On Oct. 1

CHICAGO (AP) —Commissioner Ford Frick Monday announced the 1958 World Series will open Wednesday, Oct. 1 in the city of the National League pennant winner.

With Milwaukee and New York having all but clinched their respective races, the first and second games will be played in Milwaukee. Oct. 3 was set aside for travel with the series resuming in New York on Oct. 4, 5, 6.

If more than five games are needed, Oct. 7 will be used for travel to Milwaukee with the sixth game being played Oct. 8 and seventh on Oct. 9.

All games will start at 1 p.m. local time except for the Sunday date in New York which will start at 2 p.m.

Ticket prices will be the same as last year.

Only the Braves and Yankees were authorized to print series tickets. However, Frick also invited representatives of the Chicago White Sox, Pittsburgh Pirates and San Francisco Giants to sit in on the meeting.

Individual Races Hold American Loop Interest

By The Associated Press

The American League season has only two weeks to run, but the batting, home run, runs-batted-in and strikeout champions still are undecided.

Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox leads in the bat race with .322. Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees leads in home runs with 39. Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox is tops in RBI with 113. Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox leads in strikeouts with 155.

The batting race is a five-man battle. Runnels, 30, has a 5-point spread over Bob Cerv of Kansas City (.318) with Vic Power, Cleveland, and Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, tied for third at .317.

The fifth man is Ted Williams of the Red Sox, who took the 1957 title with .388. Williams, 40, figures to get back into the thick of it tonight, after a 15-day layoff because of sickness.

Neither Runnels, Cerv, Kuenn nor Power ever has won an AL batting title.

Mantle's only serious competition for the homer title appears to be Roy Sievers of Washington, the defending champ. Sievers has hit 36. He won in 1957 with 42. Mantle has 16 games to play, Sievers has 18.

Sievers also has a shot at retaining the RBI title. He won with 114 last season and has 100 at present. Jensen, the leader for the past two months, has driven in only three runs in his last 13 games. Sievers has brought home seven over the same span. Rocky Colavito of Cleveland is third with 96.

Wynn took the strikeout lead last Friday, breaking a tie with Yankee Bob Turley, who has 153. Jim Bunning of Detroit, who set the one-game high for the season by fanning 14 Yankees June 20, is third with 144.

The Yankees, incidentally, should wrap up their ninth pennant in 10 years sometime this weekend. Any combination of Yankee victories and-or White Sox defeats totaling six does it.

Only one game was scheduled in the majors Monday. Pittsburgh won it, beating Cincinnati 4-1.

Gordon's High On Rocky, Vic In 'MVP' Race

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians—way down in sixth place and having trouble pulling fans through the home gate—have a pair of young players Manager Joe Gordon believes should be high in the running when the American League's most valuable player is chosen.

If you high-rate base hits, dash on the basepaths, and fancy-Dan infielding, your preference between the two would be Vic Power, who will be 27 next November.

If you're a long-ball lover and put a high premium on runs batted in, Rocky Colavito, the Tribe's strong-armed, 25-year-old outfielder would be your man.

Just three months ago, Colavito was on the trading block. Now he has 34 home runs, 96 runs batted in and a .297 batting mark.

Power's current .317 is the third best average in the league, and only six points behind the leader, Pete Runnels of Boston. He is tops in the junior circuit with nine triples, third in total hits with 167 and second in doubles with 34.

Gordon speaks in superlatives when discussing his two stars.

On Rocky: "The Indians won't have to worry about right field for the next 10 years. He could be a 50-home run-a-year man if he ever learns to pick his pitch."

On Power: "He was born to play ball. He's a natural. He knows what to do instinctively. He always gets a piece of the ball. He's the best hit-and-run man I ever saw. Never strikes out, always protects the runner."

Britain now has an agreement with Ethopia between the latter kingdom and nearby British African colonies on their connecting air services.

NBA Urges Jackson, Charles Be Suspended

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — If the National Boxing Assn. has its way, neither Ezzard Charles nor Hurricane Jackson can get a foot in a ring.

The NBA, holding its 39th annual convention here, Monday adopted resolutions recommending that state NBA commissions suspend the two heavyweights if they try to fight again.

Delegates held that Charles, former world champion, and Jackson, onetime contender, are in no condition to fight.

In Toledo, Ohio, there are 300 churches and 31 denominations.

Finsterwald Cards 267 To Win Utah Open

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who prefers a no-nonsense finish in the money rather than gamble for first, played his cautious brand of golf Monday and slipped into the championship of the $17,000 Utah Open.

He carded a 66 for a 267 total and $2,000 first money.

Finsterwald, a 1958 PGA champion, trailed Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., by two strokes — 201 to 199—going into the final round of the 72-hole affair at the Salt Lake Country Club.

But Hawkins' putter went cold on the 15th and 16th holes. Finsterwald caught him with pars.

On the canyon-crossed 18th, Finsterwald played two careful shots to the green. Hawkins gambled with a long wood over the canyon but was short with his approach and long on a pitch. He parred for a 69 and a 268 total.

Hawkins split second and third money with Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who carded 66 in his final round for a 268 also.

Bill Collins of Baltimore was fourth with a 68 and a 271 for $1,000.

Mallory Bulldogs' New Coach

High-Scoring Beau Bell Again In Palestine Fold

EAST PALESTINE — Seven returning lettermen and the district's top scorer of last season — husky fullback Beau Bell — considerably brighten the season's football prospects at East Palestine.

New coach William Mallory, a graduate of Miami University, succeeds John Hogan as mentor of the Bulldogs who tied with Salem in 1957 for the distinction of having the district's best records.

Both schools finished with nine victories and a lone defeat but the Bulldogs added icing to the cake as Bell was accorded top scoring honors for the area.

The 185-pound triple-threat fullback racked up 120 points last season by virtue of 19 touchdowns and six extra points and figures to be just as tough on opponents this year if he can overcome a pulled leg muscle.

"We don't have a real sound club as yet," Mallory commented, "as we move real well at times and then proceed to make plenty of mistakes."

"The team will not be as big as Hogan's club last year but we'll be a little faster up front with a line that will average over 175 pounds," Mallory said.

Besides the hard - running Bell, other returning lettermen include halfback George Hull, end Dick Wellendorf, center Jim Knight, guard Frank Ganoe and tackles Bill Thompson and Chuck Robinson.

Robinson and Thompson both scale nearly 190 and will add heft to the line while the 175 - pound knight and Ganoe, 180-pounds, are tabbed as stalwarts of the forward wall. Wellendorf, the returning terminal, scales about 175.

Mallory also has five gridders who saw limited action last year but will probably receive the full indoctrination this fall in fullback Bill Hull, quarterbacks Willis Woods and Art Herriott and ends Delmar Knight and Dick Libert.

Graduation hit the Bulldogs hard, taking 11 valuable men, and Mallory figures a rebuilding job is in order due to the loss of some of the outstanding seniors.

Depth, a problem to virtually every coach in the district, shouldn't trouble East Palestine too much with a squad numbering 41 but inexperience in the lower ranks must be considered.

Bell, who has been out the past two weeks with the pulled thigh muscle, is listed as a doubtful starter for Friday night's opener with dangerous St. Clairsville, Mallory said.

Mallory succeeded Hogan who is now at Ashland High School. He played end for four years at Miami, and after graduating assisted Doyt Perry at Bowling Green State University.

He is being assisted by Charles McBride, a graduate of Ohio University, and Wendell Spears, freshman coach, a graduate of Geneva College.

Pirates Beat Reds, 4-1; Face Giants In Showdown Series

Holding Lead Of 2½ Games For Runnerup

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who haven't been this high in Ntajonal League standings since 1944, open a three-game showdown for second place tonight with the slumping San Francisco Giants.

The Pirates took a 2½ game hold on the runnerup spot by beating Cincinnati 4-1 Monday night in the only game scheduled in the majors. That means the Giants, who have lost five of their last six, must sweep at Pittsburgh to regain second place in the standings.

CHICAGO (AP) —Commissioner Ford Frick Monday announced the 1958 World Series will open Wednesday, Oct. 1 in the city of the National League pennant winner.

With Milwaukee and New York having all but clinched their respective races, the first and second games will be played in Milwaukee. Oct. 3 was set aside for travel with the series resuming in New York on Oct. 4, 5, 6.

If more than five games are needed, Oct. 7 will be used for travel to Milwaukee with the sixth game being played Oct. 8 and seventh on Oct. 9.

All games will start at 1 p.m. local time except for the Sunday date in New York which will start at 2 p.m.

Ticket prices will be the same as last year.

Only the Braves and Yankees were authorized to print series tickets. However, Frick also invited representatives of the Chicago White Sox, Pittsburgh Pirates and San Francisco Giants to sit in on the meeting.

GETTING THE NEEDLE from an unexpected source is St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Wally Moon (Left) as he watches team physician Dr. I. C. Middleman administer one in a series of shots for the forthcoming Redbird trip to Japan. Most Cardinal players received shots prior to Sunday's game with the Dodgers. (UPI Telephoto)

Individual Races Hold American Loop Interest

By The Associated Press

The American League season has only two weeks to run, but the batting, home run, runs-batted-in and strikeout champions still are undecided.

Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox leads in the bat race with .322. Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees leads in home runs with 39. Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox is tops in RBI with 113. Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox leads in strikeouts with 155.

The batting race is a five-man battle. Runnels, 30, has a 5-point spread over Bob Cerv of Kansas City (.318) with Vic Power, Cleveland, and Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, tied for third at .317.

The fifth man is Ted Williams of the Red Sox, who took the 1957 title with .388. Williams, 40, figures to get back into the thick of it tonight, after a 15-day layoff because of sickness.

Neither Runnels, Cerv, Kuenn nor Power ever has won an AL batting title.

Mantle's only serious competition for the homer title appears to be Roy Sievers of Washington, the defending champ. Sievers has hit 36. He won in 1957 with 42. Mantle has 16 games to play, Sievers has 18.

Sievers also has a shot at retaining the RBI title. He won with 114 last season and has 100 at present. Jensen, the leader for the past two months, has driven in only three runs in his last 13 games. Sievers has brought home seven over the same span. Rocky Colavito of Cleveland is third with 96.

Wynn took the strikeout lead last Friday, breaking a tie with Yankee Bob Turley, who has 153. Jim Bunning of Detroit, who set the one-game high for the season by fanning 14 Yankees June 20, is third with 144.

The Yankees, incidentally, should wrap up their ninth pennant in 10 years sometime this weekend. Any combination of Yankee victories and-or White Sox defeats totaling six does it.

Only one game was scheduled in the majors Monday. Pittsburgh won it, beating Cincinnati 4-1.

Gordon's High On Rocky, Vic In 'MVP' Race

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians—way down in sixth place and having trouble pulling fans through the home gate—have a pair of young players Manager Joe Gordon believes should be high in the running when the American League's most valuable player is chosen.

If you high-rate base hits, dash on the basepaths, and fancy-Dan infielding, your preference between the two would be Vic Power, who will be 27 next November.

If you're a long-ball lover and put a high premium on runs batted in, Rocky Colavito, the Tribe's strong-armed, 25-year-old outfielder would be your man.

Just three months ago, Colavito was on the trading block. Now he has 34 home runs, 96 runs batted in and a .297 batting mark.

Power's current .317 is the third best average in the league, and only six points behind the leader, Pete Runnels of Boston. He is tops in the junior circuit with nine triples, third in total hits with 167 and second in doubles with 34.

Gordon speaks in superlatives when discussing his two stars.

On Rocky: "The Indians won't have to worry about right field for the next 10 years. He could be a 50-home run-a-year man if he ever learns to pick his pitch."

On Power: "He was born to play ball. He's a natural. He knows what to do instinctively. He always gets a piece of the ball. He's the best hit-and-run man I ever saw. Never strikes out, always protects the runner."

Britain now has an agreement with Ethopia between the latter kingdom and nearby British African colonies on their connecting air services.

NBA Urges Jackson, Charles Be Suspended

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — If the National Boxing Assn. has its way, neither Ezzard Charles nor Hurricane Jackson can get a foot in a ring.

The NBA, holding its 39th annual convention here, Monday adopted resolutions recommending that state NBA commissions suspend the two heavyweights if they try to fight again.

Delegates held that Charles, former world champion, and Jackson, onetime contender, are in no condition to fight.

In Toledo, Ohio, there are 300 churches and 31 denominations.

Finsterwald Cards 267 To Win Utah Open

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who prefers a no-nonsense finish in the money rather than gamble for first, played his cautious brand of golf Monday and slipped into the championship of the $17,000 Utah Open.

He carded a 66 for a 267 total and $2,000 first money.

Finsterwald, a 1958 PGA champion, trailed Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., by two strokes — 201 to 199—going into the final round of the 72-hole affair at the Salt Lake Country Club.

But Hawkins' putter went cold on the 15th and 16th holes. Finsterwald caught him with pars.

On the canyon-crossed 18th, Finsterwald played two careful shots to the green. Hawkins gambled with a long wood over the canyon but was short with his approach and long on a pitch. He parred for a 69 and a 268 total.

Hawkins split second and third money with Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who carded 66 in his final round for a 268 also.

Bill Collins of Baltimore was fourth with a 68 and a 271 for $1,000.

Mallory Bulldogs' New Coach

High - Scoring Beau Bell Again In Palestine Fold

EAST PALESTINE — Seven returning lettermen and the district's top scorer of last season — husky fullback Beau Bell — considerably brighten the season's football prospects at East Palestine.

New coach William Mallory, a graduate of Miami University, succeeds John Hogan as mentor of the Bulldogs who tied with Salem in 1957 for the distinction of having the district's best records.

Both schools finished with nine victories and a lone defeat but the Bulldogs added icing to the cake as Bell was accorded top scoring honors for the area.

The 185-pound triple-threat fullback racked up 120 points last season by virtue of 19 touchdowns and six extra points and figures to be just as tough on opponents this year if he can overcome a pulled leg muscle.

"We don't have a real sound club as yet," Mallory commented, "as we move real well at times and then proceed to make plenty of mistakes."

"The team will not be as big as Hogan's club last year but we'll be a little faster up front with a line that will average over 175 pounds," Mallory said.

Besides the hard - running Bell, other returning lettermen include halfback George Hull, end Dick Wellendorf, center Jim Knight, guard Frank Ganoe and tackles Bill Thompson and Chuck Robinson.

Robinson and Thompson both scale nearly 190 and will add heft to the line while the 175 - pound knight and Ganoe, 180-pounds, are tabbed as stalwarts of the forward wall. Wellendorf, the returning terminal, scales about 175.

Mallory also has five gridders who saw limited action last year but will probably receive the full indoctrination this fall in fullback Bill Hull, quarterbacks Willis Woods and Art Herriott and ends Delmar Knight and Dick Libert.

Graduation hit the Bulldogs hard, taking 11 valuable men, and Mallory figures a rebuilding job is in order due to the loss of some of the outstanding seniors.

Depth, a problem to virtually every coach in the district, shouldn't trouble East Palestine too much with a squad numbering 41 but inexperience in the lower ranks must be considered.

Bell, who has been out the past two weeks with the pulled thigh muscle, is listed as a doubtful starter for Friday night's opener with dangerous St. Clairsville, Mallory said.

Mallory succeeded Hogan who is now at Ashland High School. He played end for four years at Miami, and after graduating assisted Doyt Perry at Bowling Green State University.

He is being assisted by Charles McBride, a graduate of Ohio University, and Wendell Spears, freshman coach, a graduate of Geneva College.

3 'R's' Mark Activity For College Grid

By The Associated Press

Take the first major fall college football scrimmage, the movies of what happened therein and the next full practice day and what do you have? The three R's — replace, reorganize and recuperate.

That boils down the activity on the collegiate football front as coaches begin casting an eye on the calendar that has some of them opening the season in 11 days, the rest within 18.

Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell replaced Dewitt Lewis at left end with Sam Simpson, put Fred Bukaty at fullback and moved Walt Schmidt from center back to tackle after weighing last Saturday's scrimmage.

At Wisconsin, the shakeup was heard quite a distance as Milt Bruhn dropped five first stringers and 1957 lettermen to the second and third teams, including co-captain Jon Hobbs to the second team.

Columbia Coach Buff Donelli promoted three sophs to the middle line positions while Illinois and Purdue made several changes in the second units.

South Carolina Coach Warren Giese began a bit of a reorganization operation with his offensive blocking as did Kansas State's Bus Mertes' with his offensive plans.

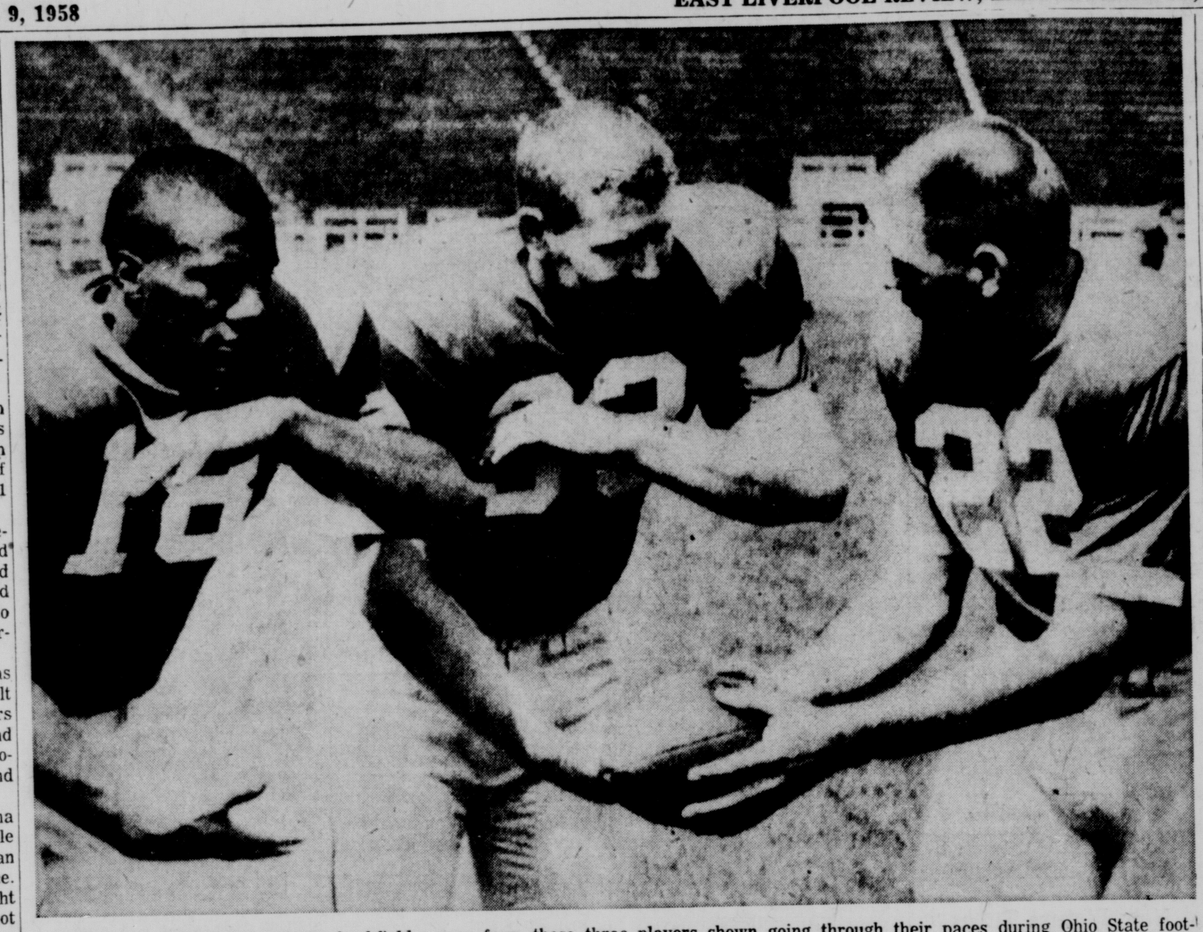

Furman worked on defensive situations and a passing drill while North Carolina State used a morning session to correct offensive errors and the afternoon on defense after a critique of Saturday.

Terry Brennan of Notre Dame lost three first stringers for a week as quarterback Bob Williams and fullback Nick Pietrosante were banged up Saturday, and haflback Pat Doyle is still hurting from last Friday's workout.

The situation is a bit more serious at Minnesota were quarterback Jim Reese was sidelined with a groin muscle injury. He joined four other backs, including a pair of lettermen, on the injury list.

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson lost starting guard Jerry Thompson for an indefinite time after he fractured his left hand in a scrimmage Monday. Michigan captain and fullback John Herrnstein suffered a fractured nose and cheek bone Saturday and will be out part of the week.

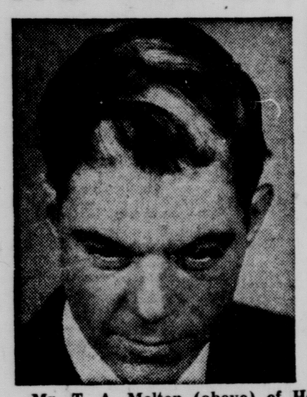

But if you were at UCLA's practice session you would have marveled at the health of the Uclans. Monday was weigh-in day and the final tally showed 6,464 pounds of football players — an average of 220 pounds per man.

POWER IN THE OHIO STATE backfield comes from these three players shown going through their paces during Ohio State football practice. The boys are (left to right) Don Clark (18), Bob White (33), and Frank Kremblas (22). Clark is a halfback, White a fullback and Kremblas a quarterback. Ohio State is rated as a team that may be the No. 1 in the country. (UPI Telephoto)

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Mr. T. A. Melton (above) of Hollidaysburg, Pa., gave about 20 minutes of his time for the Erickson free hair and scalp examination and re-grew his hair.

RETURN FOR THE 6TH YEAR TO SHOW HOW TO SAVE HAIR AND PREVENT BALDNESS

CHICAGO — For the 6th consecutive year representatives of the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists are returning to your state. Why delay longer in carrying out your resolution to "Do something about your hair." (Do not be one of the millions who are bald because they did nothing.)

Tomorrow, Wednesday only, September 10, in East Liverpool, Ohio, at the Travelers Hotel, Staff Director C. L. Clark, representing the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists have long been a leader in the field of combating hair loss. Now, we are announcing a new, even more successful home treatment, ready for easy application in the privacy of your own home.

What Causes Baldness?

How many times have you heard men attempt to explain their loss of hair with one of these remarks: "Oh, baldness runs in my family, so I just have to accept it" . . . or "Well, it's natural for a man to lose his hair as he gets along in years" . . . or "if you're going to be bald, you're going to be bald, and there's nothing you can do about it . . "

So many men have said such things for so many hundreds of years, that these old ideas are still widely circulated. But they are not supported by modern knowledge.

True, some few men do inherit a scalp structure that may predispose to early baldness. But any such tendency can be overcome by proper hair care.

As for the excuse of age, it is established now that men's hair naturally grows fastest in the years from 35 to 65. And certainly much can be done to stop hair loss, as the careful records kept by Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists prove.

Actually, the two most common causes for baldness are neglect and mistreatment of the hair.

Your hair is in better condition today than it will be next month or even next week.

When you first notice your hair thinning, brought on usually by dandruff, itching, dryness, oilness or follicles clogged with sebum or seborrhea, take positive action at once. See the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists.

First, Mr. Clark determines exactly which local trouble is causing your hair loss. He recommends the length of treatment, tells you what results you may expect and the cost which frequently is less than charged by imitators. Because Erickson treatment is highly specialized—not hit or miss—something happens soon. You'll see results quickly.

If your scalp is still creating hair — even fuzz — you can at least save and thicken what you have.

97% Satisfied

Simply because you will not be accepted unless your scalp will respond and no one is accepted for Erickson Treatment without first having a complete free scalp examination, the percentage of success is extremely high, which we are proud of.

Erickson Guarantees Satisfaction

When you are accepted for home scalp treatment you are given a written guarantee. You must be satisfied within 30 days or money will be refunded.

Free Scalp Examination

There is no charge or obligation for your examination. Here is all you do. Drop by the Travelers Hotel Wednesday only, September 10, between 1:00 and 8:30 p.m. Just say, I want to see the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists or ask for Mr. C. L. Clark's room number. He does not make appointments. Come at your convenience. Examinations are given in private —you will not be obligated or embarrassed.

D. W. ERICKSON, Founder

This famous authority urges that you do not resign yourself to baldness unless you are already bald.

Big Leagues Tell Frick Not Time For Expansion

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was definitely on notice today that the National and American leagues have no immediate interest in expansion.

Frick had hoped to use today's joint session as a sounding board for his long nurtured idea of two 10-team leagues, which eventually would blossom into three eight-team circuits. However, he has been told in no uncertain terms that the time for expansion is not yet ripe. In fact, it may be a long time off.

The American League, in a special session Monday, unanimously opposed spreading out beyond its eight clubs.

As Frank Lane of Cleveland put it, "There was absolutely no sentiment for expansion on the part of any club."

The National League, which Frick hoped, and still hopes, would reincorporate New York into its charter and add another large city, did not even bother to hold a meeting. There was a sort of get-together, but the business concerned only schedule making for 1959.

Only two clubs—Milwaukee and Chicago — strongly favor expansion. The others are either dead set against it or don't care one way or another.

National League President Warren Giles explained why he didn't even bother to call a meeting to discuss possible expansion.

"In the first place," he said, "Expansion will require unanimous consent of the members. I've never heard any sentiments expressed sufficiently for me to believe that we could get a unanimous vote. And even if we did get it, then there would have to be three-quarters assent to decide which two cities would be accepted as members."

Piqua's Hopes To Get A-Reactor Are Jolted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The hopes of Piqua, Ohio, to get an atomic reactor — the first proposed for Ohio—have received a jolt.

A group of independent scientists, who study plans for operating reactors to see whether there would be any danger to the public from radiation or explosion, have warned the Atomic Energy Commission that Piqua would be an unsuitable place for a reactor. Their reasons were not stated.

The announcement was made public Monday by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), who had received word from H. S. Vance, acting AEC chairman.

3 'R's' Mark Activity For College Grid

By The Associated Press

Take the first major fall college football scrimmage, the movies of what happened therein and the next full practice day and what do you have? The three R's — replace, reorganize and recuperate.

That boils down the activity on the collegiate football front as coaches begin casting an eye on the calendar that has some of them opening the season in 11 days, the rest within 18.

Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell replaced Dewitt Lewis at left end with Sam Simpson, put Fred Bukaty at fullback and moved Walt Schmidt from center back to tackle after weighing last Saturday's scrimmage.

At Wisconsin, the shakeup was heard quite a distance as Milt Bruhn dropped five first stringers and 1957 lettermen to the second and third teams, including co-captain Jon Hobbs to the second team.

Columbia Coach Buff Donelli promoted three sophs to the middle line positions while Illinois and Purdue made several changes in the second units.

South Carolina Coach Warren Giese began a bit of a reorganization operation with his offensive blocking as did Kansas State's Bus Mertes' with his offensive plans.

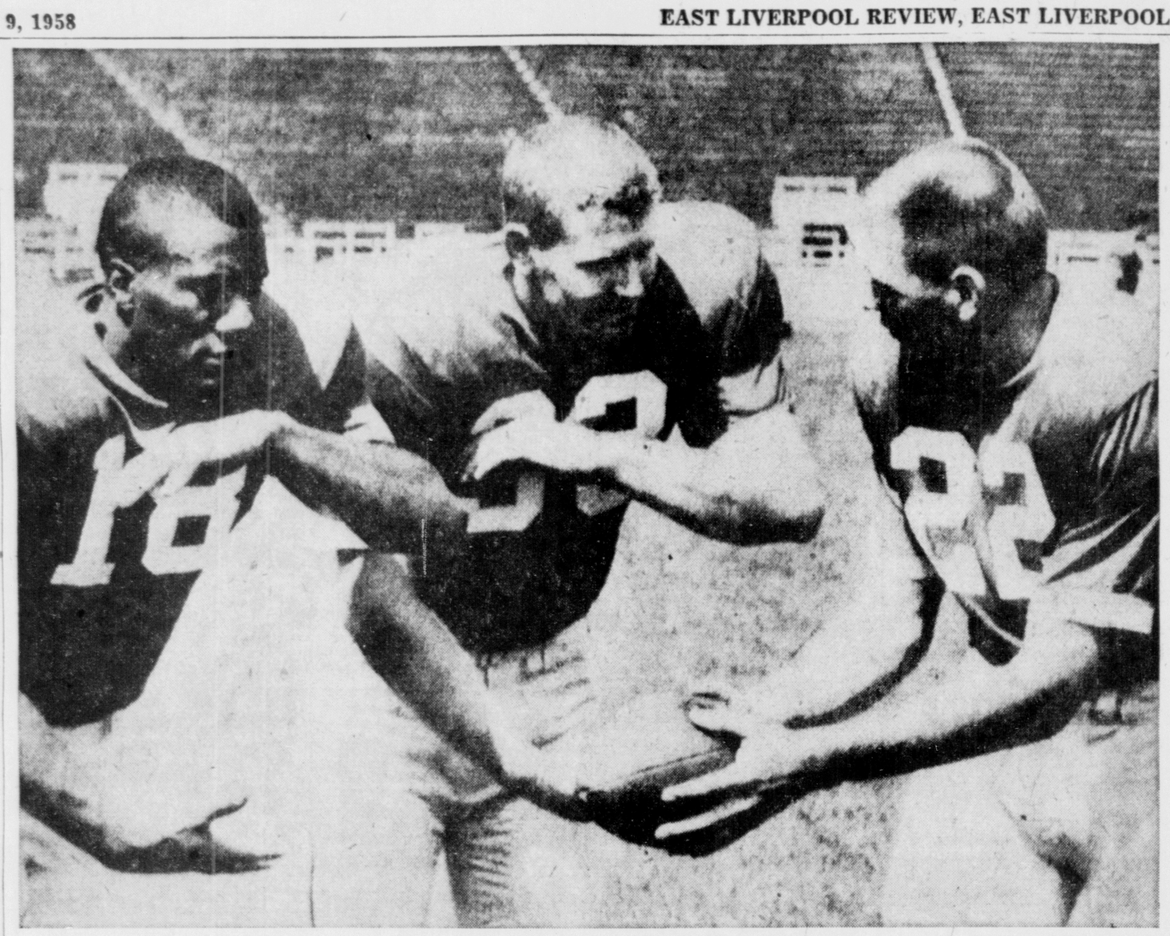

Furman worked on defensive situations and a passing drill while North Carolina State used a morning session to correct offensive errors and the afternoon on defense after a critique of Saturday.

Terry Brennan of Notre Dame lost three first stringers for a week as quarterback Bob Williams and fullback Nick Pietrosante were banged up Saturday, and haflback Pat Doyle is still hurting from last Friday's workout.

The situation is a bit more serious at Minnesota were quarterback Jim Reese was sidelined with a groin muscle injury. He joined four other backs, including a pair of lettermen, on the injury list.

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson lost starting guard Jerry Thompson for an indefinite time after he fractured his left hand in a scrimmage Monday. Michigan captain and fullback John Herrnstein suffered a fractured nose and cheek bone Saturday and will be out part of the week.

But if you were at UCLA's practice session you would have marveled at the health of the Uclans. Monday was weigh-in day and the final tally showed 6,464 pounds of football players — an average of 220 pounds per man.

POWER IN THE OHIO STATE backfield comes from these three players shown going through their paces during Ohio State football practice. The boys are (left to right) Don Clark (18), Bob White (33), and Frank Kremblas (22). Clark is a halfback, White a fullback and Kremblas a quarterback. Ohio State is rated as a team that may be the No. 1 in the country. (UPI Telephoto)

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Mr. T. A. Melton (above) of Hollidaysburg, Pa., gave about 20 minutes of his time for the Erickson free hair and scalp examination and re-grew his hair.

RETURN FOR THE 6TH YEAR TO SHOW HOW TO SAVE HAIR AND PREVENT BALDNESS

CHICAGO — For the 6th consecutive year representatives of the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists are returning to your state. Why delay longer in carrying out your resolution to "Do something about your hair." (Do not be one of the millions who are bald because they did nothing.)

Tomorrow, Wednesday only, September 10, in East Liverpool, Ohio, at the Travelers Hotel, Staff Director C. L. Clark, representing the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists have long been a leader in the field of combating hair loss. Now, we are announcing a new, even more successful home treatment, ready for easy application in the privacy of your own home.

What Causes Baldness?

How many times have you heard men attempt to explain their loss of hair with one of these remarks: "Oh, baldness runs in my family, so I just have to accept it" . . . or "Well, it's natural for a man to lose his hair as he gets along in years" . . . or "if you're going to be bald, you're going to be bald, and there's nothing you can do about it . . "

So many men have said such things for so many hundreds of years, that these old ideas are still widely circulated. But they are not supported by modern knowledge.

True, some few men do inherit a scalp structure that may predispose to early baldness. But any such tendency can be overcome by proper hair care.

As for the excuse of age, it is established now that men's hair naturally grows fastest in the years from 35 to 65. And certainly much can be done to stop hair loss, as the careful records kept by Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists prove.

Actually, the two most common causes for baldness are neglect and mistreatment of the hair.

Your hair is in better condition today than it will be next month or even next week.

When you first notice your hair thinning, brought on usually by dandruff, itching, dryness, oilness or follicles clogged with sebum or seborrhea, take positive action at once. See the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists.

First, Mr. Clark determines exactly which local trouble is causing your hair loss. He recommends the length of treatment, tells you what results you may expect and the cost which frequently is less than charged by imitators. Because Erickson treatment is highly specialized—not hit or miss—something happens soon. You'll see results quickly.

If your scalp is still creating hair — even fuzz — you can at least save and thicken what you have.

97% Satisfied

Simply because you will not be accepted unless your scalp will respond and no one is accepted for Erickson Treatment without first having a complete free scalp examination, the percentage of success is extremely high, which we are proud of.

Erickson Guarantees Satisfaction

When you are accepted for home scalp treatment you are given a written guarantee. You must be satisfied within 30 days or money will be refunded.

Free Scalp Examination

There is no charge or obligation for your examination. Here is all you do. Drop by the Travelers Hotel Wednesday only, September 10, between 1:00 and 8:30 p.m. Just say, I want to see the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists or ask for Mr. C. L. Clark's room number. He does not make appointments. Come at your convenience. Examinations are given in private—you will not be obligated or embarrassed.

D. W. ERICKSON, Founder

This famous authority urges that you do not resign yourself to baldness unless you are already bald.

Big Leagues Tell Frick Not Time For Expansion

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was definitely on notice today that the National and American leagues have no immediate interest in expansion.

Frick had hoped to use today's joint session as a sounding board for his long nurtured idea of two 10-team leagues, which eventually would blossom into three eight-team circuits. However, he has been told in no uncertain terms that the time for expansion is not yet ripe. In fact, it may be a long time off.

The American League, in a special session Monday, unanimously opposed spreading out beyond its eight clubs.

As Frank Lane of Cleveland put it, "There was absolutely no sentiment for expansion on the part of any club."

The National League, which Frick hoped, and still hopes, would reincorporate New York into its charter and add another large city, did not even bother to hold a meeting. There was a sort of get-together, but the business concerned only schedule making for 1959.

Only two clubs—Milwaukee and Chicago — strongly favor expansion. The others are either dead set against it or don't care one way or another.

National League President Warren Giles explained why he didn't even bother to call a meeting to discuss possible expansion.

"In the first place," he said, "Expansion will require unanimous consent of the members. I've never heard any sentiments expressed sufficiently for me to believe that we could get a unanimous vote. And even if we did get it, then there would have to be three-quarters assent to decide which two cities would be accepted as members."

The announcement was made public Monday by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), who had received word from H. S. Vance, acting AEC chairman.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Limitations Advised On 'Freedoms'

Some outstanding leaders in the rearing of children are saying today that children need to have some limitations that "restraints-to-the-winds," which most parents believed was the prevailing doctrine, is now taboo. Lawrence and Mary Frank in their current book, By Garry Meyers

"Your Adolescent in Home and at School" (Viking Press), write:

"Ten to twenty years ago, we thought that freedom at home and in school would release all kinds of individual courage and ability in children, but now we find that young people need some direction and help in their freedom. We realize that the little child who is unlimited or undirected by his father or mother is greatly confused because he doesn't know what his parents want him to do."

—:—

ALSO, Dr. Benjamin Spock, in recent articles in popular magazines, has been saying about the same thing and telling parents their teen-agers need parental limitations of their "freedoms."

But what about the thousands of parents who now find their teen-agers beyond control?

Hadn't these parents been warned, when these youths were mere babes and tots, not to curb their freedom but, as these parents supposed, to let them do almost as they pleased?

Yet months ago, Dr. Spock wrote that one reason he revised his book "Baby And Child Care" was that many mothers seem to be getting in more jams over excessive permissiveness than they did when they followed stricter procedures.

In the revised edition of "Baby And Child Care," Dr. Spock says:

"Moderate strictness — in the sense of requiring good manners, prompt obedience, orderliness — is not harmful to children so long as the parents are basically kind and so long as the children are growing up happy and friendly."

—:—

OF THE baby over three or four, who demands to be carried around till 9 p. m. or midnight, Dr. Spock says: "The cure is simple: Put the baby to bed at a reasonable hour, say good night affectionately but firmly, walk out of the room and don't go back."

He'd let the youngster cry it out!

Of punishing the child three to six to deter him selectively, Dr. Spock says in this new edition, "I'm not particularly advocating spanking, but I think it is less poisonous than lengthy disapproval, because it clears the air for parent and child."

I predict that in his next revision of this book, Dr. Spock will advise parents to spank the tot selectively, deliberately and consistently to teach him the meaning of no and thus remove the parents' temptation to nag, scream and yell disapproval.

This will clear the deck for the tenderness toward this little person which Dr. Spock has so long and effectively entreated parents to have.

My bulletins, "How To Teach Tot Meaning of No" and "Stubborness," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Ohio Hospital Leads Confer

Aiming To Expand Open Door Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Superintendents from 22 Ohio state hospitals open a three-day conference here today aimed at expanding an open door program for treating mental illness.

A British expert, Dr. Bertram Mandelbrote of Gloucester, will be the principal speaker. He is head of two open door mental hospitals which house 1,200 patients.

The physician told newsmen Monday open door hospitals throw away their keys except for patients dangerous to themselves or others. He said:

"The open door is the end when one has developed the hospital in such a way that patients can live with a minimum of restriction."

He warned that such a program needs considerable preparation. He said patients must be carefully classified, hospital staffs trained and full days of activities planned for patients.

Dr. Mandelbrote said the program in England is largely responsible for a 25 per cent drop in the use of tranquilizers and a marked decrease in restraints for patients.

Efforts to bring an open door program to Ohio institutions have been pledged by Mental Health Director Robert A. Haines on the basis of a study ordered by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Dr. R. C. Anderson, acting state commissioner of mental hygiene, said, "No one expects this to be done overnight or next year. We want to find out the problems and how Dr. Mandelbrote has solved them."

Merchants Group Named For Study Of Stores' Hours

A committee headed by Paul Bloor was appointed to make a study of store hours following a discussion at a meeting of the East Liverpool Merchants Association Monday at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The association also approved the appointment of a committee to study methods for improving downtown stores to make them more attractive as a shopping center. The committee will be named by William Kozel, president.

The group also voted to participate in a nationwide program on "Careers in Retailing" sponsored by the National Retail Merchants Association and the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

The group heard a report from Kozel and E. R. Chandler, ELMA secretary, on the Ohio State Council meeting last week in Granville.

Wendell Vodrey reported the work of the committee considering changes in the by-laws and Ralph Finley announced the Christmas activities committee will meet tonight.

A scheduled election of officers was postponed until a special meeting Sept. 16.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove some unsightly spattered spots of paint from the cement steps and pavement, dropped by a careless painter?

A. These spots can be removed by washing with a strong solution of potash, allowing the solution to sink in. After the paint spots are dry, wash off with soap and water, then rinse with cold water.

Q. What is a good substitute for baking powder, to use in an emergency?

A. Two teaspoons of cream of tartar and one scant teaspoon of baking soda are equal to three teaspoons of baking powder.

Ohio School Head To Attend Talk On Education Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, will meet with superintendents from other states and Lawrence Derthick, U. S. commissioner of education to discuss the sharing of the $900,000,000 federal school aid bill. The meeting will be held in Washington, Sept. 19-21.

Holt made the announcement Monday at a meeting of the State Board of Education. He said he and 10 other state superintendents held preliminary talks with Derthick last week.

In those talks, Holt said, Derthick outlined four plans in which schools, to become eligible for aid, would have to improve their mathematics, science and foreign language programs; improve guidance counseling and testing series; develop area and vocational and technical programs at the high school level, or improve state statistical reporting.

Each of the plans calls for matching state funds, at least for the first year, Holt said.

The National Defense Education Act, which authorized the funds, covers a four-year period. Congress so far has authorized $182,800,000 nationally for 1959.

1,576 Lack Dog Tags

BEAVER — Richard Taafe, Beaver County dog law officer, said today a check of the records in the treasurer's office shows that 1,576 persons have failed to obtain dog licenses for 1958. Taafe and other law enforcement officers will start a check Oct. 1, calling upon all persons who should have purchased the tags, he said.

10 Women Accept Diet Challenge

Cheers for the ten women who have accepted the challenge to lose 100 excess pounds of burdensome fat and be "set free."

Ida Jean Kain

This project started in midsummer when two overweights from different sections of the country wrote: "Would you have a reader who would accept my challenge to lose 100 excess pounds and report her progress through this column?"

To add to the interest, each of these women weighed 255 pounds. In reporting the story, your dietitian invited others with a like amount to come aboard. A total of ten have eagerly accepted.

There are many reasons why it is a powerful help to join forces. Just knowing that someone else is faced with a problem as big as yours keeps you from feeling all alone and desolate.

WHEN YOU KNOW that someone else really understands and is truly interested in your progress, you have a new incentive. For the first time you feel that it is possible for you to reduce.

Forget past failures. This time you are going to take full advantage of the science of nutrition to allay hunger and maintain normal energy. The "Hunger Control Diet" provides all nutrition essentials generously. The deficit is in calories only. On this protective diet you improve your health and "shore up" nutritionwise as excess fat is lost.

If you have not had a physical check-over with your doctor, please have one. Do not ask your doctor to prescribe an appetite depressant. Such drugs are merely a crutch, and because of their side effects of irritability, nervous tension and insomnia, many of you cannot tolerate them.

Appetite depressants do not affect the rate of your weight loss. It is the diet that does the reducing. The stimulation of the challenge can do more to bolster your morale than any drug can.

The real secret of slimming success is enlivened interest. Paint a picture on your mind of the way you want to be. Flash this on your mental screen each night as you go to sleep. The subconscious mind takes over during sleep and this picture strengthens subconscious will to eat for ideal weight.

BACK TO NUTRITION: The scientific pick-ups are a wonderful help. Have a glass of buttermilk or skim milk, or a hard cooked egg at snack time. Gelatine in hot bouillon or in tomato juice is surprisingly satisfying.

For those of you who are just starting, set your first goal for 25 pounds off by Thanksgiving, and a total of 50 pounds off by St. Valentine's Day. It will help you to report regularly, to the doctor and to this dietitian. I will report group progress at least once a month through the column

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.
